on, Marshfield Residents Highway, Air Victims Sunday

actor and a rural Appleton woman were killed and injured in Fox Cities area accidents Sunday.

A four-place airplane in which he was the lone occupant burst into flames about 7:30 p.m. Sunday near Marshfield. Dr. Taylor's aircraft struck a small woods on the J. H. Bratton Highway.

Dr. Taylor, 48, of Marshfield, was killed and a passenger spun out of control and hit a bridge abutment on County Trunk BB near Butte des Morts Country Club about 11:08 p.m.

Husband Treated

The dead woman's husband, Robert, 32, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he is being treated for head injuries. He is reported in good condition.

According to Outagamie County Traffic Patrolman Irving Partika, the Bellin car hit a slushy spot in the road as it was being driven east on County Trunk BB. The car spun half way around, and the passenger side of the car smashed into the bridge abutment, fatally injuring Mrs. Bellin.

Winnebago County authorities today reported wreckage from Dr. Taylor's aircraft was scattered 500 feet beyond point of impact. The engine was 15 feet from the fuselage. The plane, with Dr. Taylor's body in it, was still burning when police arrived at the scene.

The area was ordered sealed off until CAA investigators, at the scene this morning, investigated causes of the crash.

Dr. Taylor had left Marshfield for Milwaukee Friday afternoon and had apparently stopped in Madison Sunday before starting back to Marshfield. He had a pilot's license for seven years and was owner of the aircraft for four years.

Eleven persons, including an Appleton policeman, were injured in four accidents reported on city streets Sunday. Six persons were killed.

Peiping Lashes At Kremlin for Cuba Agreement

TOKYO (AP)—Red China today likened the Soviet Union's agreement to remove its missile bases from Cuba to the British-French appeasement of the Nazis at Munich.

The editorial in the Peiping People's Daily, official organ of the Chinese Communist party, did not mention the Soviet Union or Premier Khrushchev by name. But its target obviously was Khrushchev's backdown in the face of U.S. firmness.

The Cuban situation, said the editorial, is "a crisis of carrying out an appeasement policy toward U.S. imperialist aggression and a heart attack of encouraging U.S. imperialism to pursue even more insatiably its policies of aggression and war."

"The attempt to play the Munich scheme against the Cuban people who have already stood on their own feet is doomed to complete failure," the paper said.

The People's Daily also backed Prime Minister Fidel Castro's contention that U.N. inspection of the removal of the missiles—proposed by Russia—would be a "serious violation of Cuba's sovereignty."

U. S. Embassy Worker Told To Quit Russia

Espionage Charges Fabrication, State Department Asserts

BY GEORGE SYVERTSEN
MOSCOW (AP)—For the third time in a month the Soviet Union has accused a member of the U.S. Embassy staff of spying and ordered him out of the country.

The state Department termed the latest charges, against Richard Carl Jacob, a secretary-archivist, "a complete fabrication." Jacob, 26, was accused of "maintaining secret liaison with a spy on the territory of the Soviet Union."

Tass, the Soviet news agency, said he was "caught redhanded while removing intelligence data from a secret hiding place in the entrance hall of house number 5-6 in Pushkinskaya Street in Moscow."

Forced Into Auto

The nature of the material, said Tass, established "beyond a shadow of a doubt" that Jacob was in contact with an undercover agent.

An embassy spokesman said Jacob was arrested Friday, forced into a car and detained for 2 1/2 hours at a militia station. The embassy protested to the Soviet Foreign Ministry that he had been illegally detained in violation of the diplomatic immunity to which he was entitled.

The embassy refused to say what Jacob was doing when he was picked up.

Earlier Accusation

Jacob, a bachelor from Egg Harbor City, N.J., had served in Moscow for 10 months. A Dartmouth graduate, he attended the University of Munich for a year as a Fulbright scholar. After six months in the Army, he joined the State Department about 2 1/2 years ago and entered the Foreign Service last November.

The Russians on Oct. 5 accused Lt. Cmdr. Raymond D. Smith, an assistant U.S. naval attaché, of photographing Soviet naval installations in Leningrad and expelled him. A week later they expelled an embassy first secretary, Konstantin S. Mikhlin, and charged him with attempting to buy secrets from a Soviet citizen.

The State Department said Smith and Mikhlin obviously were expelled in retaliation for the expulsion from the United States of two members of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations who were charged with buying military secrets from a U.S. Navy sailor.

Eklund, Antarctic Explorer, Dies

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Dr. Carl R. Eklund, 53, a native of Tomahawk, Wis., antarctic explorer, lecturer and chief of polar and Arctic research for the Army, died of a heart attack here Sunday.

Dr. Eklund, a brother of Laurence C. Eklund, Washington correspondent of The Milwaukee Journal, has been living in Washington recently and died shortly after coming here for a lecture.

Eklund achieved international recognition as an Antarctic explorer and scientist and was scientific leader in the Antarctic International Geophysics Year from 1956 to 1958.

White House Plane Returns Pilot's Body

The 35-year-old Air Force pilot will be buried Tuesday with full military honors in a private cemetery.

Independent Poll Indicates Brown Will Beat Nixon

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An independent poll favoring Gov. Edmund G. Brown set the stage today for a dramatic finale to Richard M. Nixon's battle for the governorship of California and a political comeback.

Nixon, while "supremely confident," suddenly cancelled a series of pep-up visits to Los Angeles campaign headquarters for a no-text appearance on a statewide television network tonight.

His announcement came shortly after newspapers published the findings of the California Poll taken Oct. 30-Nov. 1. The results showed Brown ahead, 48 to 41 per cent, with 11 per cent undecided. The Sept. 27 poll also tilted toward the Democratic governor, 48-42-10.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, said the poll by the Mervin Field Organization had nothing to do with the last-minute change of plans.

No Nobel Peace Prize Awarded

OSLO, Norway (AP)—The Nobel Committee of the Norwegian Storting (Parliament) today announced it had decided not to award the Nobel Peace Prize for 1962.

The prize money has been reserved for next year, the brief announcement said.

No reason was given for the committee's decision, but in the past the prize has not been awarded in times of great crisis.

Informed sources said the committee regarded the world situation as "too labile"—that is too unstable—to make any award this year.

Webster's Third International Dictionary defines the word "labile" as meaning: Characterized by a ready tendency toward or capability for change; readily or continuously undergoing chemical or physical or biological change or breakdown.

Cuba Surveillance Will be Continued

Must Outlast Missile Crisis, President Kennedy Believes

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy feels U.S. surveillance of Cuba will have to be continued in some form long after the current missile crisis is settled, government sources report.

In offering his view of the President's thinking to newsmen Sunday, the sources did not specify how the watch would be kept. The object they said, would be to guard against any future introduction of Soviet missiles into Cuba.

Aerial photographs of the island last month gave the first hard evidence that the Soviet Union was mounting an offensive missile threat in Cuba, the White House has said. It was from aerial photos taken last Thursday that the administration concluded Soviet Premier Khrushchev had begun to make good on his pledge to tear down the missile bases.

The Navy, in maintaining an arms blockade of Cuba, has also been filling a surveillance role.

Removal of the missiles and other Soviet offensive arms from Cuba remains a thorny problem. By the terms of the Kennedy-Khrushchev agreement, the United Nations would supervise the verification that Soviet missiles have been withdrawn from the island.

The government sources who discussed Kennedy's position emphasized that he is determined to verify the removal of the weapons by international inspection teams—and that nothing less will be satisfactory.

While the United States and the Soviet union are reported prepared to have the International Red Cross full the inspection role originally proposed for the United Nations, Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro has the power to bar the Navy, in maintaining an

GOP Hopes for Some Key Governorships; No Great Congress Upsets Likely

BY JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans looking toward the 1964 presidential contest nurtured high hopes today of winning key governorships posts when about 50 million Americans go to the polls Tuesday.

In an interim election which may be influenced by the continuing crisis over Cuba, Democrats expected to come close to holding their own in House contests and even talked of the possibility of small Senate gains.

At about 160,000 polling places from Maine to Hawaii, voters will officially choose 35 governors, 39 senators and 435 House members.

If the usual pattern is maintained, balloting will begin shortly after midnight tonight in a couple of New Hampshire hamlets and end at 2 a.m. EST. Wednesday in the reaches of Alaska's farthest west time zone.

Chilly, Fair Weather Likely

The Weather Bureau predicted dry but chilly Election Day weather for most of the nation.

President Kennedy was scheduled to fly to Boston late today to cast his ballot there Tuesday for his brother, Edward M. Kennedy, who is rated a sure winner in the Massachusetts race for the President's old Senate seat.

The White House said the First Lady has cast an absentee ballot and will not make the trip.

The President recorded radio and television appeals last week urging Americans "to take part in our democracy" by voting in the election.

GOVERNORSHIP

On the eve of the election, Republicans were favored to win 19 of the governorship races. Democrats 16. This could alter radically the present bases of power in the states where presidential elections are won or lost.

The GOP now holds the governorships of only 16 states with 129 electoral votes. There are contests in 14 of these states. Only the governors of Montana and Utah, which have a total of eight electoral votes, are Republican holdovers.

Democrats are governors in 34 states which will cast 406 electoral votes in 1964. There are no contests this year in 13 of these with 152 electoral votes.

Because their chances of making any substantial gains in the House and Senate races appear dim, Republicans are looking to the governor contests not only to give them an upward surge to

Military Post Lost by India

Defenders Leave Northern End of Line at Ladakh

NEW DELHI (AP)—The Indian government announced today the loss of one of its most important military positions on the battle lines to the Chinese Communists.

The position at Daulat Beg Oldi, at the northern end of the line in Ladakh, was evacuated a few days ago, a Defense Ministry spokesman said.

Ladakh is at the western end of the Himalayan border.

The outpost at Daulat Beg Oldi was the center of a series of smaller posts, all of which fell earlier.

The Chinese have now crossed what they claim to be their border with India at one or two places and have driven beyond the disputed territory.

Peace Hopes Dim

New Delhi officials think there are no chances now of a negotiated peace with the Chinese.

Prime Minister Nehru has demanded the Chinese withdrawal to positions they held before Sept. 8 and has rejected proposals of a cease-fire and peace talks until they do. The Chinese offensive in both the northeast and northwest areas of Ladakh was launched Oct. 20.

Nehru was reported preparing another reply to Soviet Premier Khrushchev to that effect.

But it appears here that the Chinese have no intention of going back to their Sept. 8 positions. Khrushchev sent Nehru his proposal for a cease-fire without conditions last Friday. A primary aim of the Soviet peace gesture appeared to be to get the conflict stopped before India falls out of its neutral alignment. A Pravda editorial warned India against "the intrigues of the imperialist camp" and also absolved Peiping of any aggressive intent.

Informants said Nehru would tell Khrushchev there could be a cease-fire and peace talks tomorrow if the Chinese pull back but that otherwise "there is no alternative left to us but to resist this attack, whatever may be the cost or the consequences to us."

Polaris Sub to be Named Rayburn

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has decided to name a new Polaris missile-firing submarine for Sam Rayburn, long-time speaker of the House who died a year ago.

The Defense Department announced this Saturday and said the keel of the submarine will be laid Dec. 3 at the Newport News Shipbuilding & Drydock Co., Newport News, Va.

The announcement noted that Polaris submarines "are named for great patriots who have rendered distinguished service to the cause of freedom."

Rayburn served as speaker of the House about 18 years. He was elected to the House from Texas in 1913 and served continuously in the chamber until his death in November 1961.

37,000 Seek Polio Shots in Arkansas

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Frightened by the possibility of a polio epidemic, more than 37,000 residents of this Ozark Mountain area swarmed to immunization centers.

The supply of Type I Sabin oral polio vaccine on hand—30,000 doses—was exhausted in the first 36 minutes Sunday. Many waited for hours in the frigid mountain air while an Arkansas National Guard plane flew in 20,000 additional doses from Dallas, Tex.

Alleged Bank Robber Arrested After Chase

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Albert Frederic Nussbaum Jr., 28, alleged bank robber and one of the FBI's 10 most wanted men, has been captured here following a reported tip to the FBI by his mother-in-law.

Soon after he was seized early Sunday following a 20-minute high-speed automobile chase by the FBI and Buffalo police, Nussbaum became groggy and was rushed to a hospital, where his stomach was pumped.

A physician said Nussbaum apparently had swallowed something to cause the grogginess.

No shots were fired. A 22-caliber rifle, ammunition for it and two hand grenades, were found in the car but Nussbaum surrendered without a struggle, agents said.

The Buffalo Courier-Express said it had learned from an au-

Crisis Over Yemen May Bring Conflict

Conservative Monarchies May Be Pitted Against Nasser's United Arab Republic Forces

BY FAROUK NASSAR
DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — A deepening crisis over Yemen threatened today to touch off a Middle East conflict pitting conservative monarchies against President Gamel Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic.
On one side are the royal strongholds of Saudi Arabia and Jordan and on the other the Yemeni revolutionary regime backed by the U.A.R.

The crisis touched off by the overthrow of Yemen's ancient throne in September reached a new fever point Sunday with threats by the rebel regime to invade Saudi Arabia's main southern port of Qazan and the interior city of Najran.

Opposing Factions
Saudi Arabia and Jordan are supporting attempts by the deposed Yemeni king, Imam Mohammed Al-Badr, to regain his throne. The United Arab Republic has sent planes and tanks and perhaps 1,000 soldiers into the tiny Red Sea country to aid the revolutionary regime.
Yemeni revolutionary President Abdullah Sallal voiced the invasion threat against Saudi Arabia as that country's radio claimed royalist warriors now control Yemen's entire northwest.

Communiques purporting to come from Al-Badr's headquarters claimed hundreds of rebels including many U.A.R. troops, had been killed in the fighting. The communiques said that in northern Yemen royalist forces have tightened their siege of the region's capital of Sada.

Claims Invasion Crushed
Sallal disputed the claims, saying that his U.A.R.-supported army and air force crushed "a large-scale Saudi invasion" and that the entire northwest region of Yemen where the fighting occurred was now "completely under republican control."

He claimed nearly 4,000 invaders were killed in four days of fighting. In Cairo, the government-owned Middle East News Agency said Yemeni tribesmen had been driven at gunpoint to join the Saudi Arabians in attacking northern Yemen. A U.A.R. military spokesman scoffed at Saudi and Jordanian radio claims of high Egyptian casualties. "We lost only two men," he said.

At U.N. headquarters in New York, a member of the kingdom of Yemen delegation, which is still loyal to the monarchy, said that Al-Badr's forces had captured 180 Egyptians and held all the country outside the largest towns.

X-15 Rocket to Test Re-Entry

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The X15 rocket plane tries one of its trickiest re-entry braking maneuvers this week in tests to determine whether eliminating its bottom tail fin will help it set new altitude records.

Pilot John McKay will tilt the nose 20 degrees above the windstream—the highest angle of attack yet attempted without the ventral fin. The higher the angle, scientists say, the greater the braking effect.

With the fin, the plane has tilted as sharply as 23 degrees, but pilots said it had a tendency to roll. The highest previous angle of attack without the fin was 15 degrees.

Dog May Move Up in Ranks With Officer

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Unless police officials find a better solution, the department may have a dog on the detective staff. Midnight, a 3-year-old German shepherd, has lived and worked with officer Billy R. Goforth since he was a pup. The dog won't work with another officer.

Goforth has been promoted to detective and police are pondering whether to promote Midnight too.

Press Freedom Ends in Ghana As Paper Dies

Government Takes Over 'Pioneer' To End Opposition

Chicago Daily News Service
MALINDI, Kenya—A brief notice in the official Gazette early in October announcing the takeover of the Ashanti Pioneer by the Ghana government marks the end of an era for the West African republic.

The Pioneer, published by J. W. Tsihoo and his wife, Nancy, was the one Ghanaian newspaper which, while it fought for Ghana's independence from the British, had the courage to oppose the heavy-handed policies of left-leaning President Kwame Nkrumah.

Took Over
In a similar action the government took over two private insurance companies to eliminate competition between them and the newly established government-owned Ghana State Insurance Corp., which will absorb the two firms.
The Pioneer was never much of a newspaper by American standards. Its top circulation was about 40,000.

The paper was printed on cheap pulp and it often came smudged off creaking flat-bed presses looking as if it had been made up by a tipsy copy boy.

But it was an honest, erudite paper that stood alone in a country where the press otherwise is controlled by the government or the ruling Convention People's Party (C.P.P.).

The Pioneer was published in Kumasi, the capital of the ancient Ashanti empire, which has always been the core of resistance to Nkrumahism.

Write Editorials
Tsihoo is a fifty-ish, short, balding Methodist who scuffled around his Progress House office in shirt sleeves and suspenders, wrote most of the paper's editorials, and liked to set a stick of type.

Nancy Tsihoo at one time was one of Ghana's few female magistrates and national treasurer of the opposition United Party.

Since Ghana attained independence in 1957, the Tsihoos' reporters and editors, several of whom have been jailed, have had a difficult time in obtaining news from the government.

In 1959, Tsihoo asserted that government lawyers were scrutinizing every edition of his paper in the hope of hanging libel charges on him.

Council Plans Mass Changes Paper Creates Furor With Letters on Spying

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Proposals for the most extensive changes in the Roman Catholic Mass in 300 years were made public today. The suggested revisions were placed before the Vatican Ecumenical Council, which resumed its work after a four-day recess. Ever since the council took up the topic of liturgy, or public worship, two weeks ago, it appeared clear that the 2,400 council fathers were determined to give the Mass more dramatic impact.

List Changes
A council communique today outlined some of the proposals being discussed by the assembled cardinals, archbishops, and bishops. Among them:

—Fewer prayers at the foot of the altar as Mass begins.

—Participation of the congregation in the offertory prayers now said only by the priest.

—Insertion of a prayer to St. Joseph, as well as to Mary, in one part of the Mass.

—Reading from the pulpit of the Prayers and Lessons which precede the Gospel.

—Ending the Mass with a blessing and the Latin words "Ite Missa est" (go, the Mass is finished). The council no matter what. The blessing now comes near the end of the Mass.

Resignation of Rusk Denied by Spokesman Close to President

Baltimore Paper Claims That Bundy Will be New Secretary

BY PETER LISAGOR
Chicago Daily News Service
WASHINGTON — A source close to President Kennedy denies as "utterly untrue" the reports that Secretary of State Dean Rusk will soon be replaced in the cabinet.

At the height of the Cuban crisis and since, several reports have been published that Rusk and other high officials were in disfavor with the White House, allegedly because of undue caution and timidity in dealing with the Soviet missile threat and the Communist challenge elsewhere.

"Dean Rusk made good sense throughout the Cuban crisis," says this highly-placed informant, adding an ungrudging tribute to the State Department's performance during the recent tense and decisive weeks.

Report Published
One report, published in the Baltimore Sun, quoted "high sources in the GOP" as saying that Rusk would be fired after tomorrow's elections and replaced by a Republican, possibly the present Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon.

Another report by a national columnist said Rusk had misled the president with cautious advice about Cuba and that he

Progress in Planning

Appleton and the whole Fox Cities area has made some significant progress in planning for the future in recent months.

Most significant is the soon-to-be-completed master plan by the consultants for the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission, and the accompanying detailed reports. There has been general support engendered for these efforts and public acceptance of the idea that they must now be pursued into the implementation phase.

It is also important that each municipality concerned prepare now to take advantage of the work done on a regional basis by advancing the same sort of planning on a local level.

The City of Appleton has taken a big step in this direction by setting up an independent planning department, one of

Manipulating Elections

Fortunately, the Fox Cities area never has been confronted with vote frauds, big or little. There have been some human errors.

But it's interesting to note what has occurred in other parts of the country, just as an example of what can happen. It pays for voters to be alert to any apparent misconduct by election board workers or judges, and to any tampering with the machines.

Voting machines are no guarantee of an honest election. The balloting can be manipulated, although not as easily as with paper ballot sheets, a recent article in Life magazine points out.

It is well to note, too, that where a write-in campaign has or is likely to develop, voting booths are supposed to have pencils in them. There has been some criticism in Appleton by people who wanted to make write-in votes, but could find no pencil. Voters should remember to leave the pencils in the booth and not take them home.

India Learns About Reality

Prime Minister Nehru admitted last week that "we were getting out of touch with reality in the modern world" by insisting that Red China would be grateful to India for backing its admittance into the United Nations and saying kind words about it despite its smoldering and smoking attacks along India's mountain borders. But India's leaders still are a long way from facing the hard facts of life in a world with Communists.

Despite the slaughter of Indian troops, inadequately prepared for the hordes of Chinese which the Indian government had been warned about, Indian delegates to the United Nations again backed Red China's admittance. Actually the action is in keeping with the philosophy of India's government, shared by some Americans, that United Nations membership should be universal and not governed by qualifications. The idea is not only in the wrong place — the Charter would have to be changed to admit other than "peace loving nations" — it is based upon the same sort of wishful thinking that meant the death of so many Indians in the Himalayas.

We assume that Indian people will exhibit against the Chinese the same sort of stubborn refusal to be conquered that they showed for centuries against England's imperialist rule. Despite what may be a chuckle or two at India's present discomfiture, the British already have sent in arms and the United States is following suit. Red China, in serious economic

No More on the Rocks

Some Spaniards are upset about American travelers who don't wear many clothes or others who denounce bullfights. But a Spanish commercial attache in Chicago some time ago was concerned about another aspect of American life.

Americans are becoming "straight gin drinkers," he complained. "Gone is the olive and the vermouth which make a martini a martini. Nowadays the making whose first jobs will be to prepare a master plan for the future development of Appleton coordinated with the regional plan.

The city has also taken the first step toward a planned capital improvements program by setting up projects for the first year, 1963, and instructing Schellie and Associates to recommend a schedule for the next five years.

Appleton's share of the budget to continue the regional planning commission next year is up for review this week. The rewards which can come from all these efforts are becoming much more real each month. Appleton should continue to exert leadership in the regional planning field for the obvious benefit to the city itself and to the whole area.

everyone has to wait hours to get into the booths. Some people will get tired, go home and never come back.

Election workers can show a prospective voter how to work the levers of a machine, and in so doing actually cast ballots for their party's candidates. Demonstrations should be verbal only.

In Jackson County, Mich., in 1955, one precinct had 99 more votes than registered voters. It was discovered that the counters on the machine had not been set at zero.

Names of "opposition" party candidates can be marked out or covered with tape.

The easiest and best known way to perpetrate a fraud with paper ballots is to use what's called the chain gang method. A loyal party member takes his valid ballot into the booth with him but leaves it blank and puts it in his pocket. A folded, blank piece of paper, the same size and color of the ballot goes into the ballot box.

Once outside, he marks the ballot and sends it in with a "compliant" voter. The tame, compliant voter deposits it and brings his valid ballot out with him, and hands it to the party member, who marks it appropriately and sends it in with another tame voter. The process is repeated over and over.

straits, has the advantage of more troops in the area and the tyranny that provokes a war to take the minds of people off their misery. But in the long run India should be able to hold out. It has able and dedicated leaders in the lower echelons of government and in the military.

But Nehru is going to have to learn still more about reality if he is to lead his people to anything more than a stalemate. He was belatedly right in deposing Foreign Minister Khrishna Menon who has been the architect of the disastrous policy toward Red China. By no stretch of the imagination can Menon's advice be called in any way successful. Although he now blasts against the invaders almost as violently as he has consistently against the West, there can be little confidence that his judgment is apt or his conclusions wise. His failure to provide enough troops to repel the invasion force stemmed from his ridiculous belief that the Red Chinese could be trusted.

So far the Soviet Union, busy in the Caribbean, has only let it be known that it would support Peiping if it had to. The invasion, we may assume, was not to Russia's liking, particularly at this time, but the ideological split between Russia and China shows no immediate sign of widening. As one Indian newspaper editorial said in criticizing India's past actions, "the point is not that the Soviet Union has let us down but that New Delhi had no business whatsoever to suppose that it would do anything else."

of a martini is no longer an art but a matter of pouring straight gin into a chilled glass." The olive is important, says the Spaniard, because it provides color and flavor to the drink and a bit of a snack to offset the effects of the gin.

And besides that Spain raises a lot of olives. The United States imports 97 per cent of the olives used in this country from Spain but apparently there is a danger that the demand is slackening.

Election Glorious to Winner

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Nov. 8, 1882.

THE CRESCENT VINDICATED! Hip, Hurrah! — Our predictions of the glorious results of the elections have been more than verified. Tuesday last dawned upon us in a glorious manner. The day was unusually fine — a fitting promise of the good results that followed.

A heavy vote was polled in every locality and much interest was evinced by the People.

Notwithstanding all means were resorted to, by the Abolitionists, to mislead and defraud the voters, by spreading all manner of split tickets headed "Democratic;" "notwithstanding all manner of falsehoods were circulated against our candidates; notwithstanding a lying circular issued from the vile Motor office — yet we have gained a magnificent victory!

Money was lavishly expended for the success of the Republican ticket, but the honest voters spit upon it with contempt!

All honor to the loyal Democrats and Conservative Republicans of Outagamie! You have done a work that will cheer you in your old age — that will comfort you in the "trying hour."

We hope none will have cause to regret their efforts toward replacing honest men in our County Offices. The misguided Democrats who bolted some of our candidates will not feel any more chagrined at their failure to distract the party than we feel for their mad course. Honesty is the best policy.

Henry Taylor Writes

Bowles Was Away During Cuban Crisis; Other Pals Still Here

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR
Chester Bowles was in Ethiopia when President Kennedy acted about Cuba. But this was the only piece of good luck Mr. Kennedy had in the White House that Monday.

Theodore C. Sorensen, Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., Richard H. Goodwin, Walt W. Rostow, McGeorge Bundy and the other professors-turned-politicians were at hand.

On the record this cheerful cabal of strange thinkers has been wrong from start to finish. They have been wrong about Russia, wrong about our allies, wrong about Castro, wrong about all of Latin America and wrong about the American people. And they'll stay wrong, too, for they are as out of place at the policy level of our government as gypsies who cry at christenings and dance at funerals.

Their advice to the President is sand, not rock. On the record a more discredited group of mistaken neophytes has never bedded down in our White House to guide a President, or as arrogant a group, either. Mr. Kennedy has other advisers, but this is the Nehru set: much in their mentality reminds you of mixed-up Jawaharlal. Like Nehru, they build a Taj Mahal around each of their thoughts, and their persistent apologies for the Soviet have been just about as un-rewarding as Nehru's and equally dangerous. Moreover, their advice that is exposed is only the visible cap of the iceberg.

BEN BELLA AN EXAMPLE
It all seems like some kind of debonair charade, Nehru-style, and the country was bewildered by their advice that the President receive Algeria's bloody-handed Ben Bella, a saturnine Sino-Soviet stooge, with red-carpet treatment ("Mr. Prime Minister, we are proud to have you here"), knowing Bella was en route to Havana to embrace and support Castro.

That these pseudo-intellectuals in their donnish cocoons were up to their elbows in the Bay of Pigs debacle, with all that this implies, should have been enough to expel them from any high studies. Mr. Schlesinger, for example, was a main operative on the Miami sector of this incredible fiasco.

Our greater Cuba crisis at present stems from that disaster. Otherwise, enough that was needed would have been sent to the beaches to have won Cuba's freedom from Castro a year ago last April. Even after the Bay of Pigs the present action would have been taken months ago with

Failing to Vote for Protest Reasons Is Dangerous Practice

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
MADISON — A thoughtful letter from an attentive reader revives a question that turns up each year at this time — namely, does the citizen really have an obligation to vote, as is so often said before elections?

More precisely, are the civic leagues, and the editorial writers and the others preaching something that is not really true, and isn't there a right of the individual to refrain from voting as clearly as there is a right for him to express himself on the candidates offered to him?

As a guess, there will be a good many persons sympathetic to the viewpoint expressed in the query, many who feel that the abstention as a form of protest is as effective in some instances, and surely as satisfying to a critical voter, as the choice between two candidates for a major office when the voter is really not interested in either of them.

There are such situations, it may be guessed, in many households in Wisconsin today because of the ticket choices put before them by the political parties. This department has had several communications and several personal calls attesting to it. National publications indicate that something of the same order prevails elsewhere in the country, and notably in the important California gubernatorial election.

Wyngaard

per-critical persons, those who believe that only the politicians of past eras qualified as statesmen, and that all contemporary politicians are fools or knaves. There is a good deal of that false sophistication abroad too.

Perhaps the problem here is the changing technique of communications in politics. Today's voter sees his political candidates from such close range that he knows them far better, or thinks he does, than did his grandfather in the 19th century. Television, and the politicians' love for the television screen, are involved here.

The emphasis today is on personality, on physical appearance, on voice and mannerism, rather than on program, record, principle and belief.

There is a tendency to forget that if the people of Illinois had viewed Lincoln and Douglas at such close range as is possible today, there might have been some who declined to choose between them too.

THE ISSUE
plaints that the politicians are creatures of their parties, and beholden to those interests that arranged their nominations in the first instance. Surely, in an open primary state like Wisconsin this is a lesser hazard than elsewhere. But even assuming some merit to the objection, the citizen in a republic is not intended to be an inert or inanimate clod. He is a part of the political nomination process too, if he wants to assert himself. As this space has noted often before, any strong-minded person of reasonable competence can gather together his like-minded friends in any representative Wisconsin county and take over the county party machinery of his choice — if he wants to do so.

Abstention is surely a right, and probably justified under exceptional circumstances. But there is nothing to show that circumstances really change very much over the generations in American politics. Abstention too frequently can be dangerous. The political system will continue. The difference will be that the undesirables will take power with the default of the worthy and the responsible.

What Makes He-Man? Not Trip Into Woods

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS
A reader in Texas has written me a note asking: "Why do women belittle (at least, my wife does) a man's attempt to take to the deep woods and be the he-man?"

It's not as simple as it sounds, nor is the answer a simple one. Women belittle men for different reasons, good and bad; and men want to take to the woods for different reasons, good and bad.

What interests me, however, is my correspondent's implicit assumption that the one who takes to the deep woods is necessarily a "he-man." He may or may not be — but it is in his daily life, not in his forest flights, that he reveals his manhood or his boyhood.

In a book on "Courage" that he wrote shortly after the war, Gen. Slim, who commanded the Allied forces in Burma, said that his experience with soldiers and civilians and refugees had taught him that "moral courage is much higher and rarer than physical courage, and that women and civilians often exhibit more courage of this kind than the bravest combatants."

What it takes to be a real "he-man" in modern society is no longer the physical intrepidity of the soldier or frontiersman in the past.

upon to be and do requires moral courage of a high order, tenacity, patience, a deep sense of responsibility, and the willingness to endure boredom, fatigue and tensions that can be only occasionally relieved.

The real he-man, it seems to me, is not the one who takes to the woods (except, perhaps, as a relaxing weekend off once in a while), but the one who feels a quiet and deep pride in taking care of his family as a man ought to.

Sitting home at night, reading a book, while the children are tucked in their beds, it can be immensely gratifying to reflect that the whole structure of their safety and welfare depends upon one man, his work, his reliability, his responsibility, his refusal to funk his obligations.

Being a man has little to do with stalking deer in a woods or shooting ducks in a blind; these are pleasant vestiges of boyhood, not tokens of manhood. But continuing to work when you are tired, assuming duties when you would rather loiter, making sure that the nest is safe and warm and that the future holds promise of continuity and growth — these are the unrelenting demands modern society makes upon its grown men.

How well and how willingly we measure up to these demands — unheroic in a dramatic sense, but more difficult in many ways — is a more accurate criterion for separating the he-men from the he-boys.

Miles of Film Shot To Show Missiles

Cuba Blanketed as Planes Shoot Photos of Soviet Installations

BY RELMAN MORIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Imagine a strip of photographic film, 20 to 30 feet wide, some six miles long.
Cut in sections, it is stretched across the floor. Photo analysts, on hands and knees, crawl around on the pictures, peering at them through stereoscopes, special magnifying glasses. The technicians note any detail of change in terrain. More especially, they look for objects on the sites that weren't there yesterday.
They chart the birth of a crisis, a Soviet nuclear threat to the United States, swiftly taking shape on Cuban bases.

Beginning Monday, Oct. 15, says a chief of intelligence, American pilots flew six and seven photo reconnaissance missions over Cuba daily.
"We blanketed the island," he says.

New Congress Will Be Similar to Old

Democrats Will Keep Control Of Senate and Probably House

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—The most interesting result of Tuesday's elections should be the effect—if any — on President Kennedy's handling of Congress the next two years.

For three reasons:
1. It's been a dull campaign, without burning issues. Then the Cuban crisis snowed it under.
2. Kennedy will be laying the foundations for himself to run again in 1964.
3. The new Congress will probably be like the old: highly conservative, even though run by his own Democrats.

Give Predictions
Predictions run like this:
The Democrats may keep their present Senate margin—64 to 36—and even pick up one or two seats; in the House—where they outnumber Republicans 263 to 174—they may lose a few seats.

That's not much change. A Senate pretty much the same and a House with just a few more Republicans won't make any noticeable difference in their attitude toward Kennedy programs.

The attitude has been strong support on foreign issues and, in this fairly prosperous society, defeats or melting down on many domestic ones.

It was easy to get the impression from Kennedy's campaign oratory that this present Congress freighter shows some large crates on deck. In the picture, they look cylindrical, like miniature Quonset huts. Evaluation indicates they are probably Ilyushin-28s, a Soviet light bomber, with a range of 750 miles. These crates are unloaded in remote ports, not Havana, and solely by the Russians, not the Cubans.

Late Sept. to Oct. 1—Cuban refugees report heavy night-time truck traffic on the highways. The freight is covered. It appears to be larger than ordinary cargo.

Flights Suspended
Early October—bad weather and clouds over Cuba cause a second suspension of the reconnaissance flights.

Oct. 14—A photo mission reveals sites under construction. They are for medium rockets, range 1,000 miles, and for intermediates, range 2,000 miles. On the same day, pictures are taken of the cylindrical crates, seen Sept. 28 on the freighter, now at San Julian airport. Now it is confirmed that the assembly for the IL-28s was in the crates. The missiles and the bombers are offensive weapons.

Oct. 15—These photographs are evaluated in the early evening. They touch off the train of events that led to the quarantine.

"I think, but I can't prove absolutely, that the Russians started the construction work about Oct. 10 or 11," he says.

By Oct. 19, at San Diego Los Banos, photographs showed 7 missiles, 4 erectors, 100 vehicles, and tents for 500 men. The base became operational in three days, the officer said.

"The problem was to confirm the available evidence, assess the magnitude, and determine the nature of the Soviet threat," he says. He and members of his staff worked 34 hours without sleep to accomplish this, he said.

The Soviet objective was described as "a rapid secret simultaneous deployment" of the missile bases.

"In this day and age," the officer observed, "even the rapid development of a weapons site is a casus belli." (provocation to war.)

Evidence Clear
Before the end of the week of Oct. 15, the evidence was clear. The President was preparing to present it in his statement ordering the quarantine. Kennedy was ready to make it on Sunday, Oct. 21, but Secretary of State Dean Rusk persuaded him to wait a day, saying it would be difficult to pre-notify all the ambassadors on a weekend.

On Monday, Oct. 22, an hour before the President spoke, representatives of the NATO, SEATO and CENTO alliances were invited to the State Department. Waiting for them was Roger Hilsman, director of the Bureau of Intelligence and Research.

He presented the American findings, showing photographs and slides of the Soviet rocket installations in Cuba. Later, he delivered the same briefing to representatives of the neutral nations.

The general impression is that the U.S. case was wholly persuasive.

At 4 p.m., Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin, was called to Rusk's office. He emerged 25 minutes later. Rusk had told him about the arms-blockade of Cuba. The ambassador, normally a bluff cheerful-looking man, seemed shaken.

Says an agent, "We caught them with their launchers down and their rockets showing."

A Final Message . . .

Governor Gaylord Nelson

Tomorrow is election day. I have campaigned for five months, traveling 50,000 miles, making more than 700 speeches, and talking with people in every part of our state, from every walk of life. I have never called names. I have tried to discuss the issues facing our state and our nation in a sensible, honest way. I have done my best, and I have no regrets.

Whatever happens tomorrow, I want all of you who twice elected me as governor of Wisconsin to know that it has been a great honor to serve you, and that I will never forget my four years as chief executive, no matter where the future may take me.

Whether I am elected or not, I want to thank the thousands of people who sacrificed time to help me — not only the Democrats, but the Independents and Republicans as well.

I also want to thank my running mates. Our state will benefit from their discussion of the real issues.

If you vote tomorrow, I will appreciate it if you vote for me. But in any case, I hope you will go to the polls and exercise your choice, which is the greatest right a democracy can confer.

Yours truly,

Lawrence College Theatre Offers Unusual Play Series

F. T. Cloak
Director of 2 One-Acts

BY DON VORPAHL

Lawrence College Theatre's ambitious 1962-63 season represents a colorful exploration of 20th Century drama. Each of the three faculty directors finds himself heir to singularly fine, dramatic literature and, collectively, part of a challenging, closely bound season.

A November production of two one-act plays opens the season. F. Theodore Cloak, head of the Lawrence drama department, will direct Eugene Ionesco's "The Lesson," and Edward Albee's "The American Dream." The play will run four nights, Nov. 14 through 17, in Stansbury Theater in the Lawrence Music-Drama Center.

Jean Paul Sartre's "The Flies" is slated for Feb. 20 through Feb. 23 under the direction of Dr. David Mayer. This also will be given in Stansbury Theater.

In May, 8 through 11, Eugene O'Neill's "Ah, Wilderness" will play in the department's Experimental Theater. Direction is by Joseph Hopfensperger.

Beginning with Cloak's two November plays, Lawrence audiences will be given a taste of the so-called "theater of the absurd," a post-World War II style in drama. In Ionesco and Albee are bold comic treatments of down-to-earth situations that can be found next door to most of us.

Their writing thrives on this commonplace element. The two playwrights dwell on techniques of repetition, lean dialogue and the cumulative effect of trivialities and simplicities in a banal human society to work a satiric spell on audiences.

Sartre's work is described by Mayer as "exciting in terms of its action, as well as its literary content." "The Flies" was written during the German occupation of France, and explores human willingness to act in a restrictive, authoritarian world.

Mayer explains that it may be interpreted in a variety of ways. Some see in it man's resistance to the authority of the gods, or others, his struggle against the dominance of men or the dictatorship of the state.

In any case, it is one of Sartre's more important philosophical plays, one which Mayer says is without the answers built in.

In contrast to these three plays, yet in close alliance to the domestic setting of Albee's "The American Dream," is the O'Neill "Ah, Wilderness."

Hopfensperger explains it as the author's only sentimental play. Written in 1933, it concerns a family setting of great warmth and dignity, the kind of writing, Hopfensperger says can send you away with a pleasant, happy feeling.

In it, O'Neill puts aside the frustrated, searching quality that characterizes most of his work, and comes up with a picture of satisfying family life as he would apparently desire it.

He points out the tolerance and goodness of the American way of life, in contrast to Albee's attack on it, and comes up with a rather daring effort in contemporary folk-comedy. While not his best writing, the Lawrence faculty director says it is some of O'Neill's most enjoyable.

Their writing thrives on this commonplace element. The two playwrights dwell on techniques of repetition, lean dialogue and the cumulative effect of trivialities and simplicities in a banal human society to work a satiric spell on audiences.

Sartre's work is described by Mayer as "exciting in terms of its action, as well as its literary content." "The Flies" was written during the German occupation of France, and explores human willingness to act in a restrictive, authoritarian world.

Mayer explains that it may be interpreted in a variety of ways. Some see in it man's resistance to the authority of the gods, or others, his struggle against the dominance of men or the dictatorship of the state.

In any case, it is one of Sartre's more important philosophical plays, one which Mayer says is without the answers built in.

In contrast to these three plays, yet in close alliance to the domestic setting of Albee's "The American Dream," is the O'Neill "Ah, Wilderness."

Hopfensperger explains it as the author's only sentimental play. Written in 1933, it concerns a family setting of great warmth and dignity, the kind of writing, Hopfensperger says can send you away with a pleasant, happy feeling.

In it, O'Neill puts aside the frustrated, searching quality that characterizes most of his work, and comes up with a picture of satisfying family life as he would apparently desire it.

He points out the tolerance and goodness of the American way of life, in contrast to Albee's attack on it, and comes up with a rather daring effort in contemporary folk-comedy. While not his best writing, the Lawrence faculty director says it is some of O'Neill's most enjoyable.

Election Work Does Not Stop With Tabulation of Votes

Certification, Publication and Other Procedure Must be Done

BY DICK LYNEIS
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

When vote tabulation has been completed by poll workers on election night, election work is far from done.

Tallies must be counted officially by the county board of canvassers, the official results must be certified and published, returns must then be forwarded to the secretary of state where once more they are counted, and recount proceedings may be initiated.

The chairman of election inspectors at each precinct, or someone appointed by him, must have the voting tally sheets in the hands of the county clerk by 2 p.m. on the day after an election.

The county clerk and two citizens which he appoints makes up the sealed tally sheets, the board of canvassers. If the returns which the inspectors have certified clerk is a candidate in the election paper, as being correct, the board of for which the returns are being county canvassers conducts an official count.

In general elections such as Tuesday's, when Outagamie County Clerk Mollie Pfeffer is a candidate for re-election, Judge Stanley Staidl, of county court branch No. 1, usually serves on the board.

The board, after the official count has been made, makes out a separate lengthy written statement containing the number of votes for each state officer, for U. S. senator, for congressman, for all county officers, for state senator and assemblyman, and for all referenda.

Each winning candidate then is certified and the official results in each race to the secretary of state. They are published in a county newspaper.

Any defeated candidate can request a recount of the ballots in any or all of the precincts. The candidate who requests the recount must pay $2 for each precinct in which the recount is demanded.

For example, if Gov. Gaylord Nelson was to request a recount for the entire state for the senatorial race in which he is now running, the cost would be over $7,000.

Last in a Series

After a three-day period has passed since the last meeting of the board of election canvassers, a candidate can no longer request a recount.

State Board

Immediately following the county canvass for a general election, the clerk must then forward the official results for each candidate in each race to the secretary of state.

The state board of canvassers, consisting of the secretary of state, the state treasurer and the attorney general, then follows the

"Monkey's Paw"

At a community gathering to pray for rain, two men, Mr. White, played by Charles Morkin, and Mr. Black, played by Richard Dixon, enter the church and claim to be angels of the Lord.

The townspeople decide both cannot be angels and propose a wrestling match to decide the matter. The angels say they were forbidden to use physical violence. After long thought, Linus Hobbs, played by Eric Lindstrom, suggests they have a staring match. Hobbs' wife and daughter are played by Sudy Dostal and Molly Beall. Lawrence Senior Finds Hidden Side of India Life During Visit

Students Saw Part of Nation Tourists Miss

BY GLENDING OLSON

People who think that an American student in a foreign country is too busy studying to see what the nation is really like should have tried to keep up with Don Kersemeier. The Lawrence College senior spent last year in India and coupled his academic program with social work, touring, sociology. He found the Hindi language difficult at first "because there are no similarities between it and English," but once established at the university found that the academic side of the life wasn't that challenging.

derwritten by the Carnegie Foundation. "They felt that there should be some type of undergraduate program in Asia comparable to those in Europe," he explained. "As far as I know, it's the first such program in India."

Kersemeier spent three months at the University of California, Berkeley, where he was a member of the National Games. He then came to Lawrence College, where he was a member of the National Games. He then came to Lawrence College, where he was a member of the National Games.

is a side of life the tourist never sees," he said.

Kersemeier managed to see southern India, which he said was "like a California summer," and also visited many of the major cities. During his last week in Delhi the temperature never got below 106 degrees, and he was in Bombay during the monsoon season; but in general he found India "a beautiful country, with wonderful scenery."

The Lawrence senior from Wausau, who is majoring in Spanish, noted that he was in India during an interesting year. In addition to the national elections, he witnessed what the newspapers called "conjunctioitis." During the year seven planets came together in the same part of the heavens, and the country itself was so different that he found Europe a disaster. It was of grave national concern, and Kersemeier noted that "in Nepal the king allotted 25,000 rupees for a giant sacrifice to ward off evil spirits."

Summing up, Kersemeier said rich country, full of a lot of poor people. "This he found the people 'very friendly people.'"

Degree Received After 31 Years

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Edwin P. Hobbs entered college in 1931. Thirty-one years and five schools later he boasts a bachelor of arts degree.

Hobbs, 53, started work toward a degree at Central YMCA College in Chicago in 1931. Then he attended Delta State Teachers College, Cleveland, Miss., before World War II service interrupted his studies.

He worked in some other college hours after the war, but speeded up his schooling at the University of Tulsa after he came here with the Veterans Administration in 1958. This spring Hobbs got his degree and said, "I plan to take a long vacation from textbooks."

Moving the Red Handle To The Right

If You Change Your Mind, Turn UP a Voting Pointer and Turn DOWN Another for the Same Office.

As no votes are registered until the Red Handle is moved to open the curtain, you can make as many changes as you desire while the Red Handle is at the right side. The machine is so arranged that you can turn down only the proper number of voting pointers for each office; you cannot spoil your ballot by voting for too many candidates. Each candidate's voting pointer is located just above the name; a voting pointer must be turned down over the name of each candidate for whom you wish to vote. LEAVE VOTING POINTERS DOWN. No one will know how you have voted because the movement of the Red Handle to the left returns the voting pointers to the original position before the curtain begins to open.

Teens Can Build Smart Wardrobe on Budget

Tempting teen fashions can be found in special departments in your favorite stores, the problem is how to select all of the delightful styles you want and remain within your budget. The solution is to choose clothes that combine pretty and practical features for you. An awareness of fabrics that are at their best and from afternoon through evening. The Wizard and the Wicked Witch of the West will be seen against background paintings that measure up to 14 feet in length.

are a wise and wonderful way to build a workable wardrobe. Shape-keeping, supple and crease-resistant, woolens and worsteds are available in a wide variety of colors, textures and patterns to please everyone's tastes. They appear in dresses, skirts, slacks, jackets, coats, suit and accessories. Excellent in quality and appearance, wool textiles will last from season to season — an important fact in building a wardrobe and extending a budget.

Invest in Good Basics
The ideal way to make your clothes budget go further is to start your shopping spree with an investment in "good" basics; this includes dresswear and sportswear. Not only will you be able to wear these fashions to suit many occasions — with a clever change of accessories, jackets, sweaters and shirts — you will have a beautiful basis for a year-to-year collection of clothes. With a wardrobe that begins with a group of go-everywhere fashions, the following season you can spend your clothing funds on freshening-up this group with new accessories and coordinates and still have most of your budget left for a few new basic additions and several special items.

Don't Lighten Budget
Everyone wants one or two "fun" fashions, and every teenager can afford to have them. But, you must remember that a "one-time" dress is always too expensive and will automatically lighten your budget regardless of the price. If the garment is so highly-styled that you can't wear it for a few seasons, it is not for you. Buying "sale" merchandise, not because you really like it, want it or need it, but because it was too inexpensive to pass-up will lighten your funds before you have purchased the important items. The high cost of a garment does not automatically make it look better on you — price is not always a sign of good taste. It is very likely that a similar garment within your budget will look as well as the

Your Problems

Ann's Philosophy Is Fine, But Best Place Is Fox Cities

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You seem to be the lady with the answers. Perhaps you can set me straight on something. I am a citizen of the world, in a manner of speaking, although New York is my home. I travel extensively in my business but spend most of my time on the North American continent.

I am at a loss to understand why so many folks have a superiority complex about the city in which they live. I encounter it wherever I go. For example: The residents of Dallas look down their noses at anyone who lives in Fort Worth. Tulsa people consider Oklahoma City a Cow Town. Any San Franciscan will tell you Los Angeles is a monstrosity. Seattle considers itself a cut above Portland. Bostonians speak with such reverence about their city one would think the rest of the country is illiterate.

Minneapolisians joke that they need a visa to go to St. Paul. Toronto looks down on Winnipeg and Winnipeg turns its nose up at Vancouver. Cleveland snubs Akron and Akron high-hats Canton.

The only people who have a right to be snobbish about their city are New Yorkers, since New York is clearly the most exciting city in the world. — A. R.

Dear A. R.: There's a wonderful old saying, "If you can't have what you like, then you'd better like what you have."

I endorse this philosophy wholeheartedly, and my hat is off to all who think their city is the greatest. But you, my friend, are mistaken about New York. The most exciting city in the world is unquestionably Chicago.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a very unhappy young lady of 16. Several months ago I said some vicious things about a girl I didn't know very well. Part of it was stuff I had heard from someone who is famous for having a big yap. I added a little here and there and made the girl out to be a tramp.

A few weeks ago I was in this person's company and found her to be downright wholesome and a lot of fun. I saw her a few times after that and now I have grown fond of her.

I would like to be her friend but I'm afraid to invite her to my house or make a show date with her because of all the talking I have done.

Believe me, I've learned my lesson. Is there any way I can go around with this girl without looking like a two-faced hypocrite? — Montana Big Mouth

Dear Big Mouth: Yes. You can tell your friends you misjudged the girl and that you are ashamed of yourself.

And let this be a lesson to you as well as to all big-mouths everywhere. We are forever the masters of our unspoken words. Once they are uttered — they master us.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I've never written to a paper in my life but what happened last night was the last straw.

We were invited to an open house reception. The occasion was in honor of a golden wedding anniversary. The three children of the honored couple gave the reception.

When my husband and I arrived we were stunned. The only refreshments in sight were plain fruit punch, coffee and cake. There was not a casserole or a sandwich to be seen. There wasn't a nut or a cookie or a dish of candy. We've been to dozens of receptions and never before have we seen such a poor excuse for a table.

These people could well afford to serve something to eat. They have all been around enough to know that on a weekend when guests are invited to a reception

Tense Nerves Block Bowels
New laxative acts on colonic muscles...de-constipates overnight.

The muscular wall of your colon contains nerves known to medicine as Auerbach's Plexus. In regular people, these nerves tell the colon muscles to propel and expel waste from the body.

But tense nerves or emotional upset can block your normal bowel habits. Your colon muscle impulses are no longer strong enough to eliminate waste—which dries and shrinks, further aggravating the condition.

Relief, doctors say, lies in the non-irritating, de-constipating principle of a new tablet called COLONOID. Of all leading laxatives, only COLONOID gives you its special 3-way overnight relief for tension-caused constipation.

(1) COLONOID stimulates your colonic nerve network, to further activate and regularize its muscular "movement". (2) COLONOID's unique re-bulking action helps re-tone tense colonic muscles. (3) COLONOID moisturizes for easy passage without pain or strain.

COLONOID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital-proved safe even for expectant mothers. Get COLONOID today. INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢.

when East took the first two diamond tricks and then led another diamond, South ruffed with the ace of hearts.

South knew that West was out of diamonds, and the idea of the high ruff was to prevent West from ruffing. You can't blame South for disliking a ruff by West, but in the attempt to escape from this frying pan she fell right into the fire.

Declarer continued by leading the jacks of hearts for a finesse. This lost to the queen of hearts, and back came another diamond.

Ruffs Again
South ruffed again and then drew trumps. She had already lost three tricks and the contract depended on managing the clubs without loss. There was no way to do this as the cards lay, so South was down one.

Now let's go back to the third trick, when East led the nine of diamonds. If South had stayed in the frying pan she could have discarded a club, allowing West to ruff. Annoying, but not fatal, the contract would then be unbeatable.

No matter what West returned South could draw trumps and discard another club on dummy's ace of diamonds. Declarer could then claim the rest of the tricks.

Parent's World

Bedtime Should be Pipe-Down Time, Too

BY DR. EVE JONES

Dear Eve Jones: Our 5½-year-old daughter doesn't go to bed without a fuss. She's allowed to leave the lights on for 15 minutes so she can look through her books or use her crayons, but then lights go out. However, she will not fall asleep.

She continually calls me, and it isn't fair to my husband because we never get an evening of relaxation. We've tried a sedative, but it doesn't work. She says she's lonely because there's no one else in her room and we—her daddy and mommy—get to share a room.

MRS. J. F. O. Stop insisting that she fall asleep—that's not right. Your job is to insure your own privacy and to instruct your child in the lesson that bedtime is pipe-down time. Her talk about loneliness is probably a smoke screen covering up the jealousy and intrusiveness so common at this age.

During the next few days, tell her you're sorry she isn't happy and you hope she'll remember that her parents love her. And once or twice mention that when she grows up and marries, she'll share her bedroom with her husband.

But at night, tell her you won't put up with interruptions. She may keep her big light on and read or play, she may leave the room to use the bathroom, and she may take a snack and drink to her room.

If she tries to bother you, don't scold or punish, just refuse to answer her and close her door if she continues to call. After a week or two, she'll accept the new bedtime routine.

SON BLOWS HIS STACK

Dear Eve Jones: My 15-year-old son has lately developed the habit of blowing his stack whenever I ask him to do something. It's over in a few minutes and then he apologizes and says, "Sorry, mother, but you know I have a violent temper." I feel like giving him a good belt across the choppers. Is there anything else I can try?

MRS. T. K. As soon as he starts to be a loudmouth, tell him to keep quiet until he can talk decently to you. If necessary, take him by the shoulders and put him out of the room. He'll never learn self-control so long as you let him practice losing it.

TRY A SOLID APPROACH

Dear Eve Jones: I'm still feeding my 16-month-old son because when he feeds himself, he puts so much food in his mouth that he chokes and gags himself. What can I do about this.

MRS. M. L. Make more foods that are solids already cut into bite size, thin down the consistency of spooned foods, and give him a smaller spoon. Then let him feed himself. Send your questions to Dr. Eve Jones, Post-Crescent, Appleton, Wis. Please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

VA Manager Reviews Deeds of 'Old Soldiers'

As the nation prepares to mark Veterans Day next weekend, J. P. Cullen, VA's Regional Manager, has reviewed the achievements of Wisconsin's 458,000 living veterans.

He found that veterans had established themselves in every walk of life with an outstanding record of adjustment to civilian living — in the professions, the skilled trades, business, industry, farming, and government.

This adjustment was made possible to a great degree by the benefits provided veterans by Congress such as GI education and training and GI loans.

Cullen emphasized that one of the most interesting and heart-warming facts was that large numbers of disabled veterans, through VA hospitalization and rehabilitation, are making their own way in the world on the same terms as the able-bodied, with no favors asked.

Record Highlights
The following, he said, were highlights of the record:

More than 174,000 veterans in Wisconsin have prepared for new careers with the help of the education benefits of the World War II and Korean Conflict GI Bills.

GI-trained veterans have helped to raise the entire educational level of the United States, Cullen pointed out, citing a Census Bureau report that today the average head of the household has 10.4 years of schooling as compared with only nine years in 1950.

Two other VA programs — GI loans and GI insurance — have assisted veterans in meeting the challenge of readjustment to civilian life.

Under the GI loan program more than 93,800 veterans in Wisconsin have been able to put down roots by purchasing homes of their own with VA-guaranteed loans. Low-cost GI life insurance has given more than 113,000 veterans in Wisconsin the sense of security that comes in preparing for the care of their families should anything happen to them.

Disabled Veterans
America's disabled veterans, fighting their way back to productive, independent lives, have been helped along the way by VA benefits, such as hospital and medical care, vocational rehabilitation training, compensation and pension payments, and special grants for automobiles and carefully-designed "wheel chair" homes.

Some 14,600 disabled veterans in Wisconsin received vocational rehabilitation training. The great majority are employed in fields using the skills acquired during training.

When the nation honors its veterans next week-end, it will be able to laud, not only their exploits in war, but their determined peacetime achievements, Cullen said.

Chilton Firemen Extinguish Farm Home Blaze

CHILTON — Chilton volunteer firemen spent two hours early this morning before extinguishing a stubborn blaze between the walls of the Ernest Bitter farm home, route 2.

Firemen were called about 5 a.m., and were forced to knock out several walls in the attic and second floor to get at the source of the flames, Fire Chief Norbert Sturm said. Sturm said the blaze was the outgrowth of a chimney fire which started earlier Sunday night.

Bitter fought the chimney fire alone and thought it was extinguished. It apparently broke out through the chimney and spread through the walls Sunday night, Sturm said.

Damages have not been estimated.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months! In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

ident Richard M. Nixon is staking his political life on the outcome of his battle with Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Pennsylvania Race

In Pennsylvania, Rep. William W. Scranton could make himself a rising star in the Republican party by winning the governorship in his race against Democrat Richardson Dilworth.

In Michigan, George Romney, the former compact car man, could rise to challenge Rockefeller and others for the prize two years from now with a victory over Democratic Gov. John B. Swainson.

In Senate races, local odds-makers credit the Democrats with varying possibilities of winning present Republican seats in Connecticut, Kentucky, Maryland, South Dakota, Utah and Wisconsin.

Republicans also have chances of knocking off Democrats in Colorado, Pennsylvania and Wyoming. The signs are so jumbled in all nine of these states that the Senate outcome could be almost a dead heat if allowances were made for possible upsets in other close contests. Democrats now control the Senate by a 64-36 margin.

Conference in Havana

Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan conferred with Castro in Havana over the weekend—presumably in an effort to prod the Cuban leader into accepting at least the fundamentals of an international inspection system.

Mikoyan and Castro met twice Sunday at the government palace. No communiques were issued and Cuban officials gave no hint of the nature of the talks Mikoyan remained in Havana despite the death of his wife in Moscow Saturday night.

The administration's continuing stress on the necessity of international inspection is being viewed in some quarters as a means of keeping pressure on Castro.

No Deadline Set

As far as it can be ascertained, the United States has set no deadline on compliance from either Moscow or Havana. Nonetheless, Kennedy was understood to feel the United States cannot wait indefinitely.

At the same time, Washington is convinced the missile bases are coming down. Their destruction is almost complete, Edward M. Martin, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, said Sunday in a television interview.

Martin touched, too, on the subject of present concern within the administration when he added, "We still do not know where they (the missiles) are going, or have verification they have left the island or will not be reintroduced."

In another television interview Theodore C. Sorensen, special counsel to Kennedy and one of his chief speechwriters, said the United States has given no formal pledge not to invade Cuba. It will not do so until a satisfactory arrangement regarding Cuban missile sites has been worked out, Sorensen said.

Moscow Assails U. S.

In other Cuban developments: Moscow radio accused the United States of failing to carry out its pledge to settle the Cuban crisis. It said the United States should have lifted its blockade and ended its aerial surveillance of Cuba.

At the United Nations in New York, John J. McCloy, the top U.S. negotiator on Cuba, gave a luncheon for his Soviet counterpart, First Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov. "It was a social visit and of course the subject was Cuba," said a U.S. delegation spokesman.

Authoritative sources disclosed at the United Nations that Paul Ruegger of the International Committee of the Red Cross will arrive in New York Tuesday to negotiate with the United Nations on a plan for Red Cross inspection of Cuba-bound Soviet ships.

Georgia Tech Students Aid 80 Foreigners

ATLANTA (AP) — Students at Georgia Tech have brought 80 foreign students to Tech in 12 years by passing the cup. Their down-to-earth program has Student Fund.

But their project, sponsored by the Georgia Tech Young Men's Christian Association, has none of the luster of a massive fund-raising drive, as such a title might imply.

The entire fund-raising effort is based on a few minutes at half-time in one of Georgia Tech's football games each year. At that time, tin cups are passed through the stadium. The coins pile up.

At this year's Georgia Tech-Tennessee game, more than $5,400 was raised. It will help bring seven more students to Tech next fall.

Provide Meals

Fraternities provide meals and add a little social life for the foreign students, which helps stretch the World Student Fund.

The Halftime for World Peace, as the football collection is called, was started by former Tech Coach W.A. Alexander. It was continued when Bobby Dodd became coach.

R.C. Commander, YMCA secretary at Tech, praised the program highly. "This is a student enterprise; it has no connection with any government fund," he said.

ward the 1964 presidential battle but to point toward a possible nominee to oppose President Kennedy.

An Associated Press survey indicated that Republicans have a slight edge in efforts to take away Democratic seats in Pennsylvania, Michigan, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Wyoming.

The GOP is credited with the advantage in trying to hold on to party governorships in Massachusetts, Minnesota, Iowa, South Dakota, Kansas, Arizona, Idaho, Oregon and Hawaii. The loss of New Hampshire would be regarded as an upset. GOP victories in New York, Maine and Vermont seem certain.

Local correspondents give the Democrats a small margin in efforts to hold on to the state-houses in California, Colorado, Connecticut, Ohio, North Dakota and Texas. They list greater certainty of retaining executive offices in Rhode Island, Maryland, Nevada and Alaska.

Democratic retention of the governorships of Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, South Carolina and Tennessee is certain.

Only in New Mexico do the Democrats seem to have a good chance to turn out a Republican governor.

...about life insurance

Every family needs the love and devotion of a thoughtful father. But a young mother and her children have a right to something more—basic financial security. And that's where life insurance comes in. Nothing else can provide that security so quickly, so economically, so surely. What's more, cash value life insurance provides benefits beyond family protection in case of death. Borrowing against the cash value might help provide funds for college, to start a business or meet an emergency. Or, the cash value can be used later to provide a retirement income. Your New York Life Agent can tell you more about cash value policies. Because of his thorough training and experience as a full-time Nylc representative, you'll find he's well qualified to serve you. For the sake of those you love, give him a call this week. Or, for help in estimating your own insurance needs, send for the free booklet, "How Much Life Insurance Is Enough?"

injured and one hospitalized as a result of a three-car accident about 11:35 p.m. Sunday in Little Chute.

One woman received injuries and was taken to New London Community Hospital after the car she was driving struck a bridge abutment on State 54 in New London.

No Injuries

Four other accidents, one involving a semi-trailer truck, were investigated Sunday by Outagamie County Traffic police but there were no injuries involved. Three accidents involved cars causing the other cars to collide with vehicles in front of them.

Spreeman appeared in Outagamie County Court, Branch 2 today and pleaded guilty to driving after his license was revoked and to a charge of drunken driving. He was fined $100 and sentenced to the Outagamie County jail for six months for driving after 203 Pierce Ave., Little Chute, and vocation, and another $200 for Gary Versteegen, 21, 717 W. Wilson St., of Little Chute. A third person involved in the accident Harold Salm, 20, 5340 N. French Road, is being treated today for head cuts.

According to Appleton police, Van Gompel was driving his car in the 800 block of S. Lawe Street when it went out of control on the slippery road and ran into a ditch. Van Gompel attempted to round a curve when the car began spinning, he told police.

Five cars were involved in a collision at Richmond Street and College Avenue about 12:05 a.m. south on Walnut Street with his Sunday. Four persons were taken to hospitals including driver of one car who later was held on suspicion of drunken driving.

Injured were Arnold Gartzke, cycle slid on the slippery street and overturned. Nitzband is in good condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Six Injured

Six persons were injured and one hospitalized as a result of a three-car accident on Community Bridge about 11:35 p.m. Sunday. Miss Jean Wallace, 21, of 503 Washington St., Combined Locks, received lacerations of the face and head and was hospitalized at St. Elizabeth Hospital. She was a passenger in a car driven by Dennis A. Jakl, 23, of 726 Jackson St., Little Chute, who received a sprained ankle, cuts and bruises of the leg and a bruise to his back.

Also injured were Robert Donnermeyer, 38, of 222 E. Eighth St., Kaukauna, a cut nose and bruises to his back; his wife, Catherine, 39, bruised knees and hands; Miss Mary Gasper, 18, of 503 E. South River St., Appleton, bruised abdomen; and Mrs. David Krueger, 18, of 503 E. South River St., Appleton, a bruised left knee.

Women Hurt

The mishap occurred when the Jakl vehicle, traveling south, went into a spin on ice which had formed on the bridge, went into the opposite lane of traffic and was hit by the Donnermeyer car traveling north.

Miss Gasper and Mrs. Krueger alighted from their car to observe the accident when a car driven by Miss Barbara Alice Woyak, 18, route 4, Appleton, struck the rear of the Jakl vehicle, pushing it into the two women. No injuries were reported by Miss Woyak.

Mrs. David Otto, 27, 704A Navilla Ave., Green Bay, was injured at 8:45 p.m. Sunday when the car she was driving struck a bridge abutment on State 54 a half mile east of New London.

She received a cut above the left eye and bruises to her left elbow. Six stitches were required to close the cut. She was treated at New London Community Hospital and released.

Police said she lost control of the car on the slippery surface of the bridge deck. Damages to the auto were estimated at $100. Three persons received minor injuries but were not hospitalized.

in an accident Sunday morning, and James Z. Mrs. Magli was pregnant.

The Magli car and one driven by J. A. Pickett of Minneapolis collided headon on a hill on the West Beltline on the outskirts of Madison. Pickett was not seriously injured.

A collision on the eastern outskirts of La Crosse Saturday night took the lives of Gary Rogers, 22, Kenosha, and Jerome E. Porter, 23, Winona, Minn. They were passengers in cars whose drivers received injuries described as not critical.

Herman Dommershausen, 55, Janesville, was injured fatally in a two-car collision at a Janesville intersection Sunday.

Gilbert Sickles, 25, Wisconsin Rapids, was killed early Sunday when a car left a town road six miles north of Wisconsin Rapids. Walter L. Adams, 27, Cloquet, Minn., died Saturday night when his car missed a curve on highway 10 near Neillsville in Clark County.

Donald L. Hermanson, 19, Blanchardville, was killed late Friday night when the car in which he was riding went off a highway and hit a tree stump near that Lafayette County village.

Church Scrutinizes Voiceless Language To Make Expressions More Meaningful

BY GEORGE W. CORNELL
VATICAN CITY (AP)—A hand-clasp, a smile, a tilt of eyebrow. These are parts of an unspoken and unwritten vocabulary that no dictionary can define and no linguist translate. Yet they carry for all men, a wealth of meaning. This in a similar way, is the kind of voiceless language that the Roman Catholic Church is examining today in an effort to make the expressions more vivid and significant to modern man. The church has its own special terminology—the bowed head, the genuflection, the shared “bread,” the fingered water, the incense, the candles, bells, the hands that trace the symbol of the cross. There are many other wordless phrases, throughout the liturgical lexicon of the church. “The objective is to make them

National Guard Commanders Hold Conference

CAMP WILLIAMS (AP)—Commanders from all major units of the Wisconsin Army National Guard met here Friday night and Saturday for a commanders' conference, the first since the Red Arrow Division returned from active duty last fall. The session was called at the direction of Major Gen. Ralph Olson, the state adjutant general. The conference was held to go over current problems in various areas, including administration, personnel and supply. Those in attendance, in addition to Gen. Olson and his staff, were Major Gen. Herbert Smith, Oshkosh, commanding general of the division; Brigadier Gen. John D. Dunlap, Milwaukee, assistant commander; and Brigadier Gen. Francis Schweinler, Milwaukee, commander of division artillery. It and all major unit commanders of the division and non-division units.

NEWINGTON, Conn. (AP)—The selection of Newington High's Eugene H. Maly, of Cincinnati, “School Sweetheart” was a tightly guarded secret. So well kept was it that the “sweetheart” didn't show up at the school's annual “Sweetheart Dance.” The winner, D.C., said: “It would be a honor, and had I known the institution of our Lord taken a trip South.

more understandable and more comprehensible,” said the Rev. Frederick McManus, of Washington, D.C., a liturgical consultant to the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

For two weeks, the worldwide assembly of more than 2,200 bishops, archbishops and cardinals has been weighing proposed revisions in the various practices of worship.

Further discussion of the subject lies ahead, following a four-day recess through this weekend. The feet 500 million Catholics around changes may be many, or few, but when they come, they will affect the earth.

And the possibility also has been cited that they may help build fuller understanding with other Christians.

“We want to get rid of those things that detract and that are without real meaning,” Father McManus said. “Some things simply are not understood or make no point to most people.”

Day after day, the bishops have expounded on the need for sounder instruction and deeper education of worshippers in the full meaning, and implications, of their acts of worship, lest these become barren gestures.

They also have urged various alterations to give the silent language a richer eloquence. “There's a movement for simplification,” Father McManus said, “and also for a certain inventiveness.”

Under one proposal, Catholic worshippers would receive Communion in both bread and wine, in celebrating of the Lord's Supper, at Mass.

At present they receive only bread, while the consecrating priest partakes of both bread and wine. Christ is believed to be fully present in both elements. The observance is a keynote in the Church's special language. It speaks of gratitude to God, of joining one's self to Him, and to one another, in dedication and love.

“If everyone received both the bread and wine, it would bring out more vividly the unity of priest and people,” said the Rev. Eugene H. Maly, of Cincinnati. “School Sweetheart” was a tightly guarded secret. So well kept was it that the “sweetheart” didn't show up at the school's annual “Sweetheart Dance.” The winner, D.C., said: “It would be a honor, and had I known the institution of our Lord taken a trip South.

granted that the fullness of the sign would be better manifest.”

It also would harmonize Catholic practice with that of other churches, which distribute Communion in both kinds.

However, various objections are raised to it by some bishops, such as the extra time that would be required in administering it, and the hygienic issues raised by passing the common cup.

Anglicans still use the common cup. Most Protestants use separate small glasses.

Grants-in-Aid Made Available for State Civil War Writings

MADISON — The Wisconsin Civil War Centennial Commission has announced a program of grants-in-aid on various aspects of Wisconsin's role in the Civil War through its Publications Committee and invites applications. These are designed to encourage original contributions and unity, need and potential contribution, and of the demonstrated capacity of the applicant. The Civil War Centennial Commission expects to publish qualified manuscripts produced with the assistance of these grants-in-aid. The Commission also invites the submission of other manuscripts relating to Wisconsin's part in the Civil War. No special form is required to make application. Educator Urges Association to 'Equip Student'

Oshkosh College Head Advises Strong Guidance Program

MILWAUKEE—"Education has assumed a new role of importance in society," Dr. Roger E. Guiles, Oshkosh State College President, told members attending the fall meeting of Wisconsin Personnel and Guidance Association in Milwaukee Friday.

Dr. Guiles said a strong program of guidance and counseling geared to the individual needs of students is basic to a sound educational program. "As coordinators, guidance and counseling personnel can do much to bring the subject of individual needs into proper focus."

Dr. Guiles said we must equip the student, within the limits of his abilities, to educate himself beyond the classroom walls. We must recognize, he said, that different individuals require different patterns of educational experience and should aspire to individualized goals.

"It means that throughout his school experience we must think in terms of the individual student rather than class averages or age norms as a basis for our expectations."

Questions Asked

Dr. Guiles asked five questions of education: (1) How well does our program reflect the needs of our increasing enrollments? (2) What are the implications for education of the explosion of knowledge confronting mankind? (3) Since the survival of our way of life may depend upon education, we must assess ourselves and ask, "How well are we doing?"

(4) How can we best direct more of our national wealth and effort into the channels of education to accomplish what needs to be accomplished? (5) What is our batting average in terms of the individual student?

We can no longer afford to be casual about the success or failure of the educational enterprise. Dr. Guiles warned, "To improve the quality of education, we must improve the education individual."

Among those attending the meeting were Annabelle Wolf, Appleton, president of WPGA, Milton Ness, Appleton, secretary; Dr. Gordon V. Drake, president-elect of the guidance association, and Dr. William Munns, coordinator of counseling at OSC.

Sidney L. Horman, Milwaukee, vice president, director of agencies and member of the board of Time Insurance Co., was elected president of the group.

Altman had waived preliminary hearing Friday, but had asked for an attorney.

He is charged with robbing Mrs. Nellie Morrissey, route 3, Ripon, of $3.51 at knife point Tuesday night. He gave himself up to the Winnebago Sheriff's Department the next day on another charge.

Officials Answer Charges In Stockbridge Utility Fight

Letter Sent Each Resident in Village Explaining Sewage Stand

STOCKBRIDGE — A one-man campaign against municipal water and sewage for Stockbridge and his published demands for a retraction from State Board of Health officials has instead resulted in another letter from the state board urging electors to approve bonding for the utilities in a referendum vote Tuesday.

Jesse Poppy, a farmer living within the village boundaries, paid for a front page advertisement in the past week's Calumet County Weekly Shopper warning residents of the proposed sanitary district of high assessments.

Poppy, an outspoken opponent of the municipal utilities, also demanded a public retraction from Oscar Egger, Fond du Lac district sanitary engineer, for the state board of health, and from Donald Carter, sanitarian for the state board of health, for a letter they co-authored urging a "yes" vote at the forthcoming referendum.

Instead of a retraction, Carter and Egger directed a letter to Poppy with mailing to all village residents in which they reaffirmed their stand, pointed out that a "yes vote" for progress was needed and stated that "one does not retract the truth no matter how uncomfortable it may be to an individual or group."

In the referendum, the village's electors will be voting on the financing, $90,000 in revenue bonding for each utility, water and sewage disposal.

Poppy, in the advertisement, claimed that the State Board of Health cannot force a municipality to bond itself at more than the 5 per cent statutory limit, in an apparent reference to the first Egger-Carter letter which carried a toned-down threat that the board has the power to order construction of such sewage facilities.

In the letter received by all village residents Saturday, Egger and Carter explained Poppy's statement is misleading since the 5 per cent limit pertains only to general obligation bonding, not revenue bonding as is proposed for the utilities.

They explain that general obligation bonding becomes the direct obligation of every taxpayer living in the municipality. The revenue bonding becomes the obligation of only those using the utility. "Only those people pay who are receiving benefits," the letter states.

Statutes Listed Egger and Carter then list the statutes that apply to the existing conditions at Stockbridge. One is that sewage wastes are being discharged into highway ditches and surface waters in violation of statutes.

The second is the nuisance statute that defines any source of night, Mrs. Hohler found the fifth or cause of sickness as a nuisance. The third, listed in the first letter, explains the power of the State Board of Health to order the construction of a sewage treatment plant by a municipality if the board rules that the absence of such a plant is a nuisance or a menace to health.

In reference to the latter, the letter points out that if the board orders the utility, no provision is made for non-users as is the case with the present plan. "Thus, farmers living within the incorporated limits of the village would be required to pay even if they received no benefits. Neither does it make any allowances for federal grants in these cases even though there is a federal grant being held open for Stockbridge," the letter states.

Retired Man Dies

Roy C. Schroeder, 60, 2106 N. Owassa St., collapsed and died unexpectedly at his home about 11:40 a.m. today.

Appleton Fire Department rescue squad was called and took the man to the Brettschneider Funeral home, where arrangements are being made. Schroeder was a retired employee of the Brettschneider Furniture Store.

Proposal to Ban Offices In Homes Given Support

Mayor Says Measure Should Cover All Residential Areas: Would Repeal Existing Ordinance

The Appleton Plan Commission today supported repeal of an existing ordinance which permits professional people to establish offices in their homes in single family districts.

Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Stillings was the author of an ordinance submitted to the common council several weeks ago which would change the policy of the City of Appleton.

Mrs. Stillings contends that "the situation is getting out of hand" with too many people putting offices in their homes in areas zoned for residential purposes.

Little Chute Police Seek Pay Increase

$119 a Month Hike, Larger Clothing Allowance Sought

LITTLE CHUTE — Village police have submitted a request for a pay increase amounting to $3.36 a day for the full month of 31 days, or $119.66 a month, effective Jan. 1, to the police and fire committee of the village board.

The request was made after the committee asked the police chief whether a plan could be worked out so the village could have 24-hour police protection without paying overtime wages.

The request indicates police would receive no call outs of hours over shiftwork, no policeman would have a part-time job and all men would be subject to call anytime day or night except on days off, holidays or vacation.

The department also requested an extra man bringing the force to five persons and an increase in clothing allowance from $60 to $100 per year.

Comparative Wages Police said present salaries ranging from $425 per month for the chief to $382 per month for a patrolman make it necessary for policemen to have outside jobs. The hourly rate for a patrolman is the same as received by common labor on street crews, they said.

The hourly rate of $1.96 for the sergeant on the force is the same as received by utility men on the street crews, they noted.

The requests will be reviewed by the committee after which recommendations will be made to the village board prior to setting up the 1963 budget.

Typical Indian Summer Fox Cities Area Had Mild October Weather

The Fox Cities area enjoyed a mean of 51.6 was 1.4 more than normal. The typical Indian summer in October with temperatures averaging above normal and higher than during the last half of September.

The month's highest temperature, 80, was recorded Oct. 11, with a close second, 79, Oct. 14. There were thunderstorms on Oct. 3, 7 and 10, accounting for 2.3 of the month's precipitation. The October total of 2.38 inches was 0.43 more than normal.

Going from one extreme to another, temperatures abruptly became cold, with the last half of the month below normal. Daily low temperatures were in the 20s and 30s with daily highs mostly in the 40s. The first killing freeze was recorded on the morning of Oct. 24, when the mercury dropped to 24, a record low for the date. The month's low, 22, was recorded Oct. 26. The monthly

Time slid away. All was orderly, quiet, ordinary. A college girl with puffed hair read a magazine; two boys, about 12 years old, traveled from car to car, looking at people and having a good time, occasionally munching licorice; nuns read from prayer books; parents hushed fretful babies, people looked at watches.

The dark was slashed by the train's lights cutting into its blackness with sure and certain speed. Sets of countless twin beacons flashed on the highway beside the track. Then suddenly, the lights on the road were the only lights. The train was in darkness and the brake was felt as it pulled to a stop. All sound stopped with the lights. It was as if everyone held a collective breath, and wasn't able to release it. Then a young man broke the tension with, "We could sing."

His words were a signal for everyone. Questions to which there were no answers hung in the blackness. Fear began to bubble at people's minds. No one knew what, or why, but each knew that something had happened. Voices cut the dark to worry that another train would come and not see us there. Panic was heard when a woman said, "I just know we're over water."

Cigarette lighters were struck and bits of flame made eerie shadows on the faces of their owners. They snapped shut. There was nothing to see. Outside, the train's mournful whistle crept through paneless windows.

Flares moved along the ground outside and people wondered and looked.

Then the two wandering boys brought back the news. "We hit a car."

The silence held a different sound now, and was broken by a moan that came from everyone at once. Fear was gone in a quick and real

Driver Pleads Innocent Of Hit-Run Charges

OSHKOSH — Bond was set at $500 for further proceedings Friday for Earl Koehnke, 30, 311 1/2 Sixth Ave. Oshkosh who pleaded innocent of driving after revocation of his driver's license and of hit and run driving.

He was charged by county police after a two-car accident Friday night at State 47 and Winnebago County trunk P in the town of Menasha.

Mrs. Robert Bellin, 31, 3323 W. Justin St., was killed Sunday night when the car in which she was riding struck a bridge abutment on County Trunk BB near Butte des Morts Golf Club.

There was no sense of privacy then. No attempt to keep out of contact. Everyone knew everyone else, for the word 'death' had made them all linked by life. Everyone felt pain, for the boy who lost his life, for his family, and for being part of it.

The train slipped into Neenah, slowly, past the flashy theater sign that read, "No Man is an Island."

It was an hour since the trainman called "Neenah-Menasha, next stop."

Retailers in U. S., Canada Look for Heavy Yule Sales

Nearly Two Out of Five Plan to Raise 1962 Advertising Budgets

Over 70 per cent of 196 re-ved among those answering the taders throughout the United question. States and Canada expect to chalk feeling of optimism this year similar to the retail outlook expressed in the same survey a year ago," says Mark R. Arnold, Retail Vice President of the Bureau. "At that time a little over 74 per cent of the retailers thought Christmas volume would be up. They were correct as December sales rose more than 4 per cent over Dec., 1961."

Budgets Planned

Bigger advertising budgets are planned by more than one-third of the stores. More than 39 per cent intend to raise their ad budgets over Christmas, 1961. Some 51.5 per cent plan to maintain advertising at last year's level, while 7.1 per cent expect to trim their ad budgets. Reports an Oregon department store which plans to raise its advertising over a year ago. "We have planned a harder hitting, earlier campaign in November and through December."

As in previous years, merchants will rely heavily on daily newspapers as their basic advertising medium. More than three-quarters of the surveyed merchants — 78 per cent — plan to invest 80 per cent or more of their ad budgets in newspapers. Some 15.3 per cent will invest 100 per cent of their ad dollars in newspaper advertising during the holiday season.

but "We have more competition, but also more customers in the area," reports a California department store which anticipates a Christmas sales gain of 10 per cent over a year ago.

"We're not standing still," says an Indiana merchant. "We're expanding our store operation and going after business aggressively — and we're being helped by our newspapers." "If your planning is done with real effort, good results will be realized," echoes a women's apparel store owner in Wisconsin.

However, a large number of stores agree that competition for the Christmas gift dollar will be even stiffer than it was a year ago.

Shopping Centers

"Business will be harder to get because of two large shopping centers that have recently opened," reports a Midwest department store. "There is more competition from discounters," adds a New York City shoe store owner. A Pennsylvania department store notes "increased competition from shopping centers surrounding the city" while a Kentucky jewelry store anticipates "tougher competition from both larger shopping centers and discount operations."

"We are going to have to work harder and put forth a little more effort in getting sales," sums up a Wyoming furniture store. "We have to really promote," agrees a Canadian shoe store.

Forty-six per cent of the retailers expect Christmas business to be harder to get than it was a year ago. Some 12.2 per cent expect it will be easier and more than 41 per cent predict it will be about the same as last year.

Three out of four retailers — 75 per cent — will kick off their Christmas promotions prior to, or on, Thanksgiving Day. Nov. 22nd Fifty-four per cent plan to launch their Yule promotions prior to Nov. 18th, the beginning of Thanksgiving Week.

Percentage Gains

Leading merchandise items and lines that are being counted on to make the largest percentage gains over 1961 include sportswear (both men's and women's), women's apparel, and toys. Other categories mentioned as probable fast movers this holiday season: home furnishings, TV sets, stereo, appliances, and sporting goods.

Included in this year's survey were 196 retailers covering 90 markets in 31 states, the District of Columbia, and Canada. Twenty different types of retail stores were represented.

The Bureau's Christmas business survey — now in its ninth consecutive year — is part of an annual drive to highlight Christmas sales opportunities. The Bureau has also published "Your Planning Guide For More Christmas Volume," now available to retailers in the United States and Canada through their daily member newspapers. This year's guide contains a six-week planning calendar to help retailers set up their Christmas advertising schedules.

Reynolds Feted In Green Bay

Proxmire Assails Press for 'Abusing' Attorney General

Post-Crescent News Service GREEN BAY — Sen. William Proxmire, who preached against a sales tax in his runs for governor, said here Saturday night the same topic is the main issue before Wisconsin's electorate even Tuesday.

Proxmire, the main speaker at a fund-raising testimonial at the Northland Hotel for Atty. Gen. John Reynolds' gubernatorial campaign, denounced the Wisconsin press for "abusing" Reynolds. About 300 persons who paid $25 each heard Proxmire say the press is hypocritical in its stand against Reynolds "because he has become the symbol of opposition to a general sales tax in Wisconsin."

"Welcome Home John Reynolds," signs were aimed at a hoped-for 10,000 Brown County Democratic votes. Reynolds received 10,000 votes running for attorney general from the county in 1960. The test of the Democratic ticket ran way behind. "Run Together"

Reynolds called for county support for Gov. Gaylord Nelson in his race for the Senate against Republican Sen. Alexander Wiley. "We run together," Reynolds said.

Proxmire called for the election of Owen Monrills to Congress to replace Rep. John Byrnes, "a man there now from this district hog - being and preventing any kind of action by President Kennedy. Monrills introduced Gov.

State ASC Meeting Scheduled This Week

A state meeting of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee members will be Wednesday and Thursday in Madison, according to Milo Singler, state ASC fieldman.

Singler urged farmers to make suggestions to local ASC committees or county representatives before the meeting. The state meeting will formulate a recommendation on dairy legislation. Singler said dairy legislation will be one of the first pieces of legislation to be considered by the new congress in 1963.

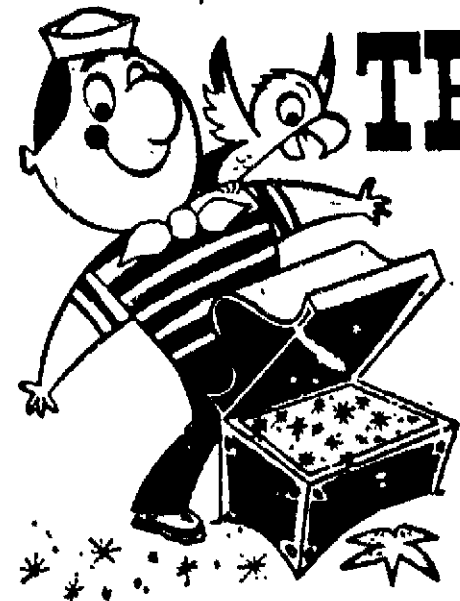

Packaging Corporation Announces Changes

Packaging Corporation of America's Board of Directors today declared a quarterly dividend of 20 cents per common share and a quarterly dividend of 37½ cents per preferred share to stockholders of record November 11, 1962, payable December 6, 1962.

Nelson, who gave a talk in behalf of Reynolds' candidacy. Saturday night's affair climaxed a sort of a day-long "Operation Home Town" for Reynolds. Accompanied by the governor, Reynolds led a motorcade of Brown County candidates and party leaders through 13 county communities during the day.

The last - minute emphasis on Brown County is part of strategy to seek support for Reynolds on the "home town issue." Nelson would benefit in straight ticket voting.

County Republican leaders tend to dismiss the factor on a belief that voters view more at stake in electing a governor than an attorney general, and because of the incumbent strength of the county courthouse ticket.

Winnebago County Delays Joining Regional Planning

Board Asks Effect of Action Upon Towns of Neenah, Menasha

OSHKOSH — More answers are wanted by the Winnebago County Board before it takes any action on joining the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission.

Board members want to know: 1. If the county provides $14,000, or some lesser amount, toward the commission, will the local governmental units now in the organization, such as the Cities and Towns of Neenah and Menasha, continue to pay toward the regional planning commission?

2. Does this planning program, if the county joins, include the entire county and all of its cities, villages and towns?

3. Is there any duplication of work and conflict between the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission and the Wolf River Planning Commission?

Outlines Program
Charles Wood, Kimberly, president of the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission, outlined the setup of the commission which dates back to 1936 and had its origin, he said, in Neenah-Menasha.

He said he did not think the local municipalities within the county would continue to pay but that the commission's executive committee had not made its decision. To include the county would require amending the commission's constitution and this is under study by a separate committee which has not reported back to the commission, he said.

Wood explained that Winnebago County's share, if it joined, would be reduced if Outagamie and Calumet Counties also joined the program so the $14,000 mentioned would be the maximum cost to the county.

Charles Zahn, resident planner for Kenneth Schellie and Associates, outlined the principals of planning, the elements of a good plan and what the regional planning commission was concerned with. It is proposing a long-range plan and that the local governments now are to devote themselves to short-range plans.

Areas to Help
Supv. Amos Page, Town of Menasha, said the regional planning commission could help the county board in recommendations on some of its problems such as the proposed county recreation area, the fairgrounds location matter and highway locations.

"Our problems would be much less if we could have a group of experts study and recommend to us solutions," Page contended.

Supv. Earle Armstrong, Town of Winnebago, who represents Winnebago county on the Wolf River Planning Commission, said there was a place for both of the commissions. The Wolf River Commission is concerned with the conservation and recreational aspects of the rivers but also considers industry, land use and sewage problems as part of its study.

Guard Officers See Armory Sites

State Monies For Project Not Available

MENASHA — Possible sites for construction of a $400,000 National Guard armory in the cities of Neenah and Menasha were visited this morning by several state National Guard officers and Twin Cities officials.

Among state National Guard officers participating in the tour were Maj. Gen. Ralph J. Olson, adjutant general State of Wisconsin; Col. Edward S. Silvers, member of the state armory board, and Maj. John Downing, state installations officer. Also with the National Guard group were Joseph Knecht, architect with the State Bureau of Engineers, representing the City of Neenah; Mayor Carl E. Loehn, representing the City of Menasha; City Clerk R. V. Hauser, Director of Public Works Wayne G. Bryan and Neenah alderman Don Kuehneman. Representing Menasha was Bruno J. Haas, assistant city engineer.

Commerce representatives also participated in the tour. Among them were John Konrad, executive secretary of the Chamber; Vern Duerrwaechter, chairman of the Chamber's armory committee; Ambrose Owen, vice president of the First National Bank; Neenah, and K. C. Kimball, president of the First National Bank, Menasha.

Rounding out the tour group which was conveyed to and from the armory sites on a Neenah school bus, was State Sen. William Draheim. Escorting the tour member of the state armory board, motorcycle patrolmen, John Chaspleau, Menasha, and Robert Seil, Neenah.

At a meeting of the Neenah-Menasha Chamber of Commerce armory committee in Neenah last week Wednesday, Senator Draheim noted that the state's financial contribution towards construction of such an armory would have to wait until the next legislative session. Federal funds of $300,000 are available but no state money ($100,000) has been appropriated as yet.

Menasha City Garage Delayed

MENASHA — A delay in the proposed city garage project to permit the best use for the city-owned site off Plank Road was suggested today by Ralph Risley, 536 Riverway, in a letter to Mayor John Klein. Risley, who is a member of the armory committee of the Chamber of Commerce of Neenah-Menasha and was active in the Menasha swimming pool project and other planning activities, made the suggestion as a private citizen rather than a member of the Chamber committee.

"As a citizen of Menasha and as a taxpayer, I suggest it would be prudent for the Common Council to withhold further action on the proposed City garage project at this time. I recommend that the Council further consider (1) the most appropriate use for the parcel in question, and (2) what other sites might be available for location of the City garage, without using a part of such a valuable piece of land.

Monday, November 5, 1962 Appleton Post-Crescent-B4
Funeral Chapel from 4 to 8 p.m. today. A memorial in his memory is being established for the visually handicapped of the area, to be administered by St. Thomas Episcopal Church.
The youth was born July 13, 1946 and was a junior at Neenah High School where he was active in the Theatrics and a member of the Varsity Service Club. Survivors are his parents, four brothers, two sisters, and three grandparents.
David Timmerman, 16, route 1, Paynes Point, Neenah, a passenger in the car with Steven, escaped with minor lacerations. The small foreign automobile was demolished in the accident at the County Trunk G railroad crossing. The car was carried 40 feet down the track before it was shoved aside. The motor was carried about 175 feet farther and was thrown onto the adjoining Soo Line tracks. County police removed the engine from the tracks shortly before a south-bound Soo Line freight was due.

Lawrence Says South African Treatment of Negroes OK'd

United Nations Charter Violated
By Sanction Vote

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Much is often said about upholding the "rule of law" in the world, but 60 governments have just violated it by their vote in a special committee of the United Nations General Assembly. These governments have deliberately interfered in the internal affairs of a member country. This is an action specifically prohibited by the provisions of the United Nations charter.

Fortunately, the United States and Great Britain — and many other governments which have respect for the rule of law — did not go along with the resolution sponsored by 33 African and Asian countries that called for the expulsion of the Union of South Africa from the United Nations because of its policy of "apartheid." Yet this policy happens to be the law of the land in South Africa.

Many people in Asia, Europe and this hemisphere do not know that the "colored" people in South Africa live in the same cities and towns with the whites, are not segregated by residence and enjoy virtually all the privileges that Negroes do in the United States. It's the Bantu tribes, however, that are required by law to be kept apart. They live and work in a separate domain, and this is what is really meant by "apartheid."

The Whites in South Africa have no fear of the "colored" in Cape-town or elsewhere, but they do fear that the Bantu — who are half-civilized — may some day take over South Africa for good. Accordingly, plans are under way by the South African government to establish the Bantu in a certain province by themselves and give them self-rule and eventual independence.

But the Afro-Asian bloc and some other members in the United Nations have undertaken to interfere with the operations of the government of South Africa and have in their resolution — by a vote 60 to 16, with 21 abstentions — not only recommended South Africa's expulsion from the U.N. but a boycott of all its exports and a refusal of landing privileges in their countries to South African planes.

The United Nations Charter, however, says under Article 2: "Nothing contained in the present charter shall authorize the United Nations to intervene in matters which are essentially within the domestic jurisdiction of any state or shall require the members to submit such matters to settlement under the present charter...."

Also, Article 6 says: "A member of the United Nations which has persistently violated the principles contained in the present charter may be expelled from the organization by

Crash Causes
$3,000 Damage

CLINTONVILLE — An estimated $3,000 in property damages resulted from a one-car accident at 1:30 a.m. Sunday, a short distance south of the city limits on Highways 45 and 22. There were no injuries.

James J. Johnson, 22, 219 Harriet St., Clintonville, driver of the car, told the police that he started to pass another vehicle, then changed his mind, set his brakes, and the car ran into a utility pole and fence.

Sgt. Loren Frazier of the Wau-paca county traffic patrol estimated $2,000 damages to the 1957 model car and $1,000 damages to the utility line, fence and pole. Johnson was traveling north on the highway at the time of the accident.

the general assembly upon the recommendation of the security council."

South Africa hasn't violated the charter, but the 60 member governments certainly have disregarded Article 2 in meddling in the internal affairs of another member country.

Colin Crowe, the delegate to the U.N. from Great Britain, put it this way in a speech to the special committee:

"There are a number of countries in this organization whose policies are disapproved by others. Are they to be expelled if their enemies become sufficiently numerous?"

The Asian and African delegates can hardly measure at this time the prestige the U.N. may lose in the United States and other countries if this violation of the charter is persisted in by pressing the resolution against South Africa.

Papers Agree

Thus, the New York "Times" and the Washington "Post" — both of which have consistently opposed segregation of the races in America's public schools — have in the last few days denounced the proposal of the Afro-Asian bloc to expel South Africa from the U.N. and to impose sanctions. The "Post," for instance, said:

"Expulsion would be a lamentable precedent. Once used, it might be invoked against other present members. Certainly Israel could make a powerful case for expelling those Arab nations that profess extermination of Israel as official policy. Finally, it is curious that some of the same countries that favor expelling South Africa also endorse the admission of Red China on the grounds of universality."

Many of these same 60 member governments which are in favor of admitting Communist China forget that it is still regarded as an aggressor against the U.N., as declared by formal resolution of the General Assembly.

The U.N. Charter, incidentally, prohibits any member "from giving assistance to any state against which the United Nations is taking preventive or enforcement action." But the Soviet Union has openly acknowledged that it supplied arms and ammunition to the Communist Chinese to fight the U.N. troops in Korea. Yet not a word is ever said by governments of any of these 60 member nations about "expelling" the Moscow regime from the United Nations.

Shall the U.N. continue to be financed largely by this country when as many as 60 members are willing by their votes to tear the U.N. Charter into shreds and deviate from the "rule of law"? (Copyright 1962)

FACSIMILE BALLOT NOTICE

GENERAL AND REFERENDUM ELECTIONS — NOVEMBER 6, 1962

STATE OF WISCONSIN }
OUTAGAMIE COUNTY } SS

Office of County Clerk

TO THE ELECTORS OF OUTAGAMIE COUNTY:

NOTICE is hereby given that an Election is to be held in the several towns, wards, villages and election precincts in the County of Outagamie, on the 6th day of November, 1962, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to or filed in this office, are given under the title of the office and under the appropriate party or other designation, each in its proper column, together with the questions submitted to a vote, in the sample ballot below.

INFORMATION TO VOTERS

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters:

A voter upon entering the polling place and giving his name and residence, will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk which must have indorsed thereon the name or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other ballot can be used. Upon receiving his ballot, the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for.

If a voter wishes to vote for all the candidates nominated by any party he shall make a cross or other mark under the party designation printed at the top of the ballot in the circle made for that purpose. A ballot so marked and having no other mark will be counted for all the candidates of that party in the column underneath, unless the names of some of the candidates of that party have been erased or a name shall be written in or a cross mark be placed in the square at the right of the name of candidates in another column. If the voter does not wish to vote for all the candidates nominated by one party, he shall mark his ballot by making a cross or mark in the square at the right of the name of the candidate for whom he intends to vote, or by inserting or writing in the name of the candidate.

A voter may vote upon a question submitted to a vote of the people by making a cross (X) or mark in the square at the right of the answer which he intends to give.

The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the ballot be spoiled, it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all shall be issued to any one voter. Five minutes' time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memorandum to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter.

The following is a facsimile of the official ballots:

OFFICIAL BALLOT

If you desire to vote for an entire party ticket for state, congressional, legislative and county offices make a cross (X) or other mark in the circle (O) under the party designation at the head of the ballot. If you desire to vote for particular persons without regard to party, mark in the square at the right of the name of the candidate for whom you desire to vote, if it be there, or write any name that you wish to vote for in the proper place.

Pine Cones Can be Turned Into Useful Home Novelties

BY CAPPY DICK

Pine cones can be turned into useful novelties for the home as the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays draw near. It's easy to find cones wherever pine trees grow. Select those that have stems attached because they will be easy to fasten to Christmas wreaths and use otherwise as holiday decorations.

Some of the cones you gather may be given the appearance of silver or gold simply by brushing them with silver or gold paint. Use a small brush so you can work the paint among the scales of the cones.

A more delicate coloring may be applied by using clear shellac and chalk dust. The picture above shows how to do this.

First apply the shellac, again using a small brush. While the shellac is wet, sprinkle on the chalk. A small piece of window screen wire is useful for this purpose. Hold it several inches above the cone and rub the chalk dry. When the drying has been completed, shake them or blow on small particles of chalk down upon the cone where they will stick to the shellac.

An attractive result can be had by dusting part of a cone with one color of chalk, such as red, then turning it and dusting on chalk of another color, such as blue or green. Bright orange may also be included. Apply enough chalk dust to cover the shellac. Hang the painted cones up to dry. When the drying has been completed, shake them or blow on small particles of chalk down upon the cone where they will stick to the shellac.

They are then ready for display in any way you wish.

Lightning Strikes at Man's World

BY TV SCOUT
6:30-7:30 (Channel 4-5) — For once, it's a Man's World has some action and adventure, instead of its usual introspection. Howie (Michael Burns) is escorted by Tom-Tom (Ted Bessell) and Vern (Randy Boone) for a weekend in the woods. He's struck by lightning and although unhurt, he's dared and wanders away from camp.

7:30-8 (Channel 2) — The Lucy Show has Lucille Ball and friend Vivian Vance trapped into volunteering for a space experiment — to see whether two women can remain in a simulated space capsule for 24 hours.

8-8:30 (Channel 2) — The Danny Thomas Show mixes family situation comedy with a bit of on-stage entertainment. Although the latter is dragged in by heels, it's the best part. The gimmick is that young Rusty (Rusty Hamer) is running for class president. In the absence of Danny (seen briefly in the opening scene), Sid Melton and Pat Carroll go to work to help his campaign.

8-9 (Channel 11) — Pride goeth before a fall is the lesson to be learned from Stoney Burke this week. The pride belongs to the Hill family — widow, son and daughter of a man who virtually commits suicide by tying himself to a brahma bull when he attempts to ride him.

9-9:30 (Channel 2) — The Loretta Young Show takes up the cuddly cudgels for feminine wiles this week. The Massey twin boys both get excited about a cute new girl in town (Kelly Harmon, Tom Harmon's daughter). One of them is an operator and gets the inside track.

9-9:30 (Channel 4-5) — David Brinkley's Channel considers the current crop of American pacifists this week. The bulk of the film follows a Nashville-Washington peace march of last spring, but there are some scenes which set the stage — scenes of actions which the pacifists protest. (Color)

9-10 (Channel 11) — Ben Casey stirs in a soupcon of hope in its otherwise hopelessly tragic situation this week.

CBS Shows Spy Activity In Germany
BY CYNTHIA LOWRY
West Germany, "the leakiest sieve in the Western camp," has 200 a month voluntarily turn themselves in to the authorities and confess. Counter-intelligence officials of West Germany showed on the program some of the methods used to obtain and smuggle information behind the Iron Curtain: hidden cameras in umbrellas, hollow rocks to hold microfilm, messages reduced to the size of a dot hidden on letters, keeps tabs on them with the aid of an electronic sorting machine. According to Sunday night's CBS "Twentieth Century" program, Red spies constantly gathered information on military affairs, industrial operations, even schools and political parties — and some man official. One could not but wonder how much was not intercepted. The short program could only skim the surface of an eternally fascinating subject. Obviously no one was going to give away any real counter-espionage secrets. Fiction writers can still turn out the most interesting cloak and dagger stuff they can tell all. Ed Sullivan abandoned his usual production numbers and acrobatic acts Sunday night for a simple, forthright and very satisfying concert of Richard Rodgers' music.

"How did you find this out?" asked correspondent Daniel Shortt, in obvious awe. "They told us," said the German official.

New Miller Ski Movie To Benefit Area Clubs

Program Nov. 14 at Appleton High, Outdoor Style Show Also Scheduled

"Many Moods of Sking," the newest Warren Miller movie, will be presented Nov. 14 at Appleton High School as a benefit for the area's two active ski clubs, Mo-Ski-Tow Hill Ski Club and Fox Valley Ski Club.

This is the sixth consecutive year a movie filmed and narrated by the noted skier, lecturer and photographer has been brought to Appleton. A ski clothing style show will be held in connection with the movie program sponsored by H. C. Prange Co. George Kubisiak is in charge. Members of the two ski clubs will model the ski clothing. The performance starts at 8 p.m.

The movie includes a tour of the Arlberg ski area in the Austrian Alps, the celebrated ski-lying tournament at Obersdorf, Germany, -avalanche busting with the French Ski patrol and a glimpse of junior Americans in competition.

Skiing techniques will be shown of such experts as Stein Erickson, man official. One could not but wonder how much was not intercepted.

The film follows a rubber-legged Frenchman, Jan Tournier, through his performance on short, and regular length skis at Chamonix. Noted as the sports' funniest comedian, Tournier skis in every direction and jumps over lifts and rocks.

Expert Jumpers
At Obersdorf, where ski jumpers use their hands and bodies to control their flight much in the way of the control surfaces of airplanes, the camera catches jumpers soaring off a towering take-off to landings more than 450 feet away.

The camera carefully records the French ski patrol, led by the sport's all time great, Emile Allais, as they ski heavy blankets of new powder snow to purposely start avalanches before the unwary recreational skiers do the job unintentionally.

Balloon Trail
Allais and the patrolmen were equipped with helium-filled meteorological balloons of different colors. Tied to the skiers with 30 foot cords, the balloons float overhead when the skier was not in motion. When the skier was moving, the balloons followed in their tracks.

The theory was that if anyone would be caught by his own avalanche and buried in it, all his companions would have to dig down the cord and find him.

The sound-color film is 90 minutes long. Proceeds from the performance will be used to improve the area clubs' hills at Calumet County Park and Mow-Ski-Tow Hill near New London.

Taylor Scores 4 Times as Packers Crush Bears, 38-7

Bays Extend Win Streak To 8 Games

BY ART DALEY
Post-Crescent News Service
CHICAGO—The Packers roared to their eighth straight victory on the strength of a Jim Taylor-made offense and an extremely alert defense at Wrigley Field Sunday. They blistered the Bears 38 to 7 in the rain and a biting cold wind before a standing room crowd of 48,953 and thus remained the only unbeaten team in pro football.

Taylor scored the first four Packer touchdowns on runs of 2, 1, 1 and 2 yards, and his rookie understudy at fullback, Earl Gros, counted the fifth on a 7-yard run. The Packers held their 2-game lead in the Western Division chase since the Lions also won Sunday. Green Bay next plays the Eagles in Philadelphia.

Pierce Approach
As expected, the Bears were keyed exceptionally high and their fierce approach held them up until the fourth quarter when the Bays scored three touchdowns and put the game out of reach.

Green Bay took a 7-0 lead in the first quarter on a 70-yard drive and Taylor's short TD slant. The Bears charged right back, with a 79-yard TD drive and tied the score at 7-all on Bill Wade's 4-yard toss to the end zone. Jerry Kramer kicked a 17-yard field goal to make it 10-7 at the half. Taylor's second TD was on a 1-yard plunge in the third frame. The Bays then broke away in the fourth frame, scoring three TDs (Taylor 2, Gros 1) to ice the show.

The Packers, facing what generally amounts to a blood-letting ceremony in the windy city, were ready, willing and anxious for combat. The Bays forced seven fumbles with their sock-em football and recovered four of them, one each by Jim Ringo, Bill Quinlan, Herb Adderley and Gros. In addition, the Packers intercepted three passes—by Willie Wood, Ray Nitschke and Adderley.

The Packers displayed their fine bench strength. Boyd Dowler aggravated a knee injury in pregame warmups and Lew Carpenter took over at flanker-back. He caught three passes for 33 yards.

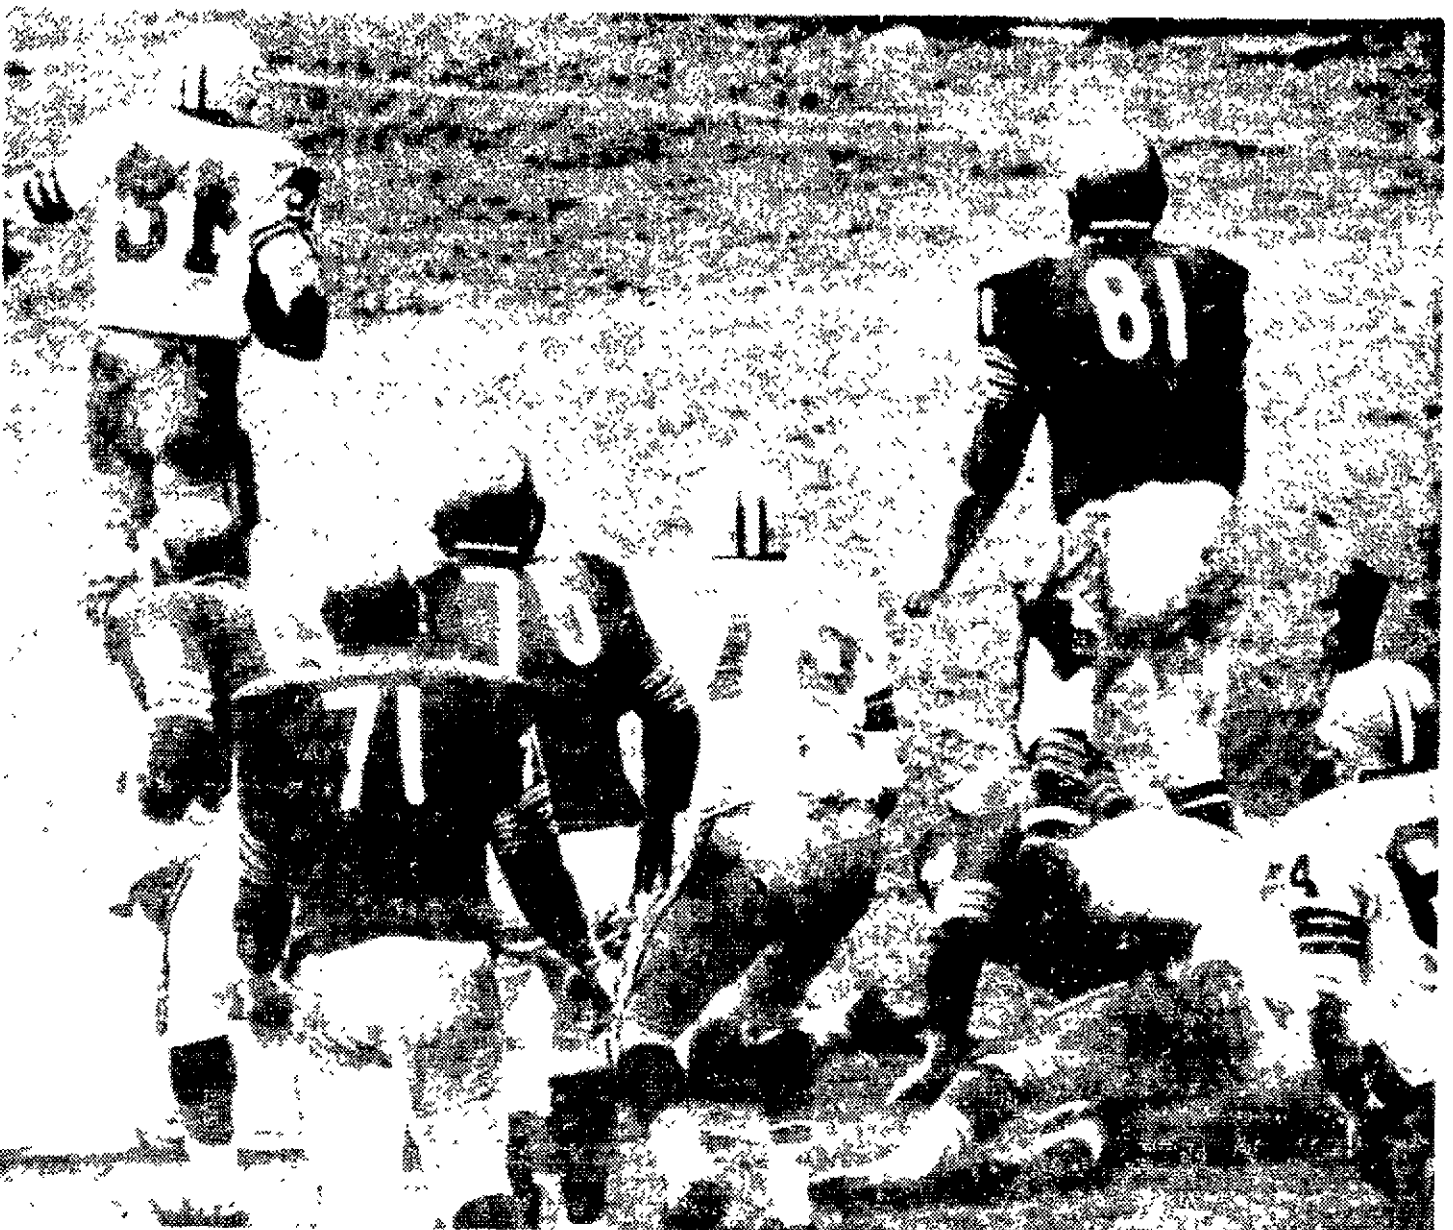

215 Yards Rushing
The Bays' offensive line, unable to crack the colts' consistently a week ago, led the way for 376 yards, including 215 by rushing. Taylor ripped off 124 yards in 25 carries and needless to say the wore hard-earned Taylor was usually greeted with three or four tacklers in running his 8-game total to 934 yards in 152 trips.

Tom Moore went the distance for the injured Paul Hornung for the third straight game and gained 38 yards in 12 attempts. He caught three passes for 60 yards and had a 17-yard picture-play touchdown run called back because of a penalty.

The turning came in the third period when a Dowler punt hit defense back Roosevelt Taylor and the Packers recovered on the Bear 28. The Bays scored in two plays.

Rolling up their 16th victory, over-all, since the loss at San Francisco last December, the Packers had to overcome 78 yards in six penalties along the way. Especially on the drives for the third and fourth TDs. Starr kept the Bears off-balance with a mixture of plays and indicated that the Packers have a trick or two up their sleeves when he leaped up (from holding the ball) and at-

Lombardi Terms Undeclared Season 'Highly Improbable'

Halas Says Freakish Punt Play Was Turning Point of Game

BY LEE REMMEL
Post-Crescent News Service

CHICAGO — For obvious reasons, Vince Lombardi is not fond of being asked if he thinks the Packers will negotiate the now mature 1962 National Football League season unbeaten. The defending world champions' resident genius, who has maneuvered the Packers to a glittering 8-0 record, customarily fixes the intercorator with his best professional frown and responds with something akin to indignation. "In this league? It's almost impossible to play 'em one by one. — that's all we can do."

But, aglow with good humor in the wake of Sunday afternoon's 38-7 destruction of Chicago's crest-fallen Bears in frost-bitten Wrigley Field, Lombardi did not permit the now inevitable question to encroach upon his expansive grin. (Humbling the Bears in their drab gray for the third year in a row is an achievement of sufficient magnitude to suspend the rules.)

The fourth estate, particularly the Chicago chapter, was not satisfied Pursuing the subject, a windy city scribe wanted to know, "Do you think it's possible for a team to win 'em all in the NFL today?"

"I think it's highly improbable," Vince countered with a somewhat enigmatic smile. "Let's put it that way."

"The boys stayed in there," he agreed in response to another comment, not without a modicum of pride.

Washington Drops to Second

Cowboys Trim Skins

BY W. B. RAGSDALE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Dallas Cowboys' rotating quarterbacks, Don Meredith and Eddie LeBaron, each had a pair of touchdown tosses Sunday as the Cowboys overwhelmed the suddenly punchless Washington Redskins 38-10.

It was just like old times—for instance, last year when Washington won only once—for the record 49,889 fans who saw the Redskins fumble at crucial spots and generally display a feeble offense as they lost their second straight.

The defeat dropped Washington into second place in the National Football League's Eastern Division as the New York Giants downed St. Louis 31-28.

Dallas boosted its season record to 4-3-1. It was the first time the Cowboys have beaten Washington since they were organized two seasons ago.

Pass to Marsh
LeBaron, the NFL top passer, didn't complete a pass in the first half as the Redskins trailed only 10-3. But his second pass completion was a 23-yarder to Amos Marsh for a touchdown that boosted the Cowboys' lead to 17-3.

Dallas scored in the first half on a 16-yard field goal by Sam Baker and an 11-yard pass from Meredith to Lee Folkins after Dick Nolan recovered Redskin Billy Barnes' fumble on the Washington 30.

After LeBaron started hitting in the second half, Dallas poured it on. Marsh broke loose on an end sweep for 70 yards to set up a 4-yard touchdown toss from Meredith to J. W. Lockett.

The Cowboys marched 70 yards early in the fourth quarter with Amos Bullocks driving over from the four. A few minutes later LeBaron tossed 14 yards to Frank Clarke for the final Dallas touchdown.

Day of Frustration
It was a day of frustration for the Redskins, especially Norman Sneed, who completed only 11 of 27 passes and missed throwing a touchdown pass for the first time this season.

Washington scored on a 14-yard field goal by Bobby Khayat in the first quarter but didn't score again until the final minute of play when Galen Hall, subbing for Sneed, sneaked over from the one.

Latest to fall were Nebraska, defeated by Missouri 16-7 and Auburn which lost to Florida 22-3. St. John's of Minnesota heads safety when quarterback Zeke Bratkowski was tackled in the first quarter, missed another from 34 yards and the Rams took over on the field in no gain.

Giants Take Lead in East With 31-28 Win Over St. Louis Cards

Lynch's Interception Saves Game in Wild Last Period

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants moved into the Eastern Conference lead in the National Football League Sunday with a 31-28 victory over St. Louis.

saved by Dick Lynch's interception during a wild last period in which five touchdowns were scored.

The Cards, led by Charley Johnson, a fine sophomore quarterback, took a 14-0 lead into the final period before the teams started trading touchdowns. The Giants had scored three times and the Cards twice in those final frantic minutes before Lynch grabbed a Johnson pass deep in New York territory.

Y. A. Tittle, who threw seven touchdowns passes last week against Washington to tie an NFL record, threw three against the Cards but was under heavy pressure all the way. Frank Gifford caught two of Y. A.'s scoring passes for 39 and 33 yards. The victory boosted the Giants into first place by a full game over the Washington Redskins, who lost to Dallas 38-10. The Giants have a 6-2-0 record to the Redskins' 4-2-2.

Tremendous Day

Sonny Randle had a tremendous day for St. Louis before a capacity Yankee Stadium crowd of 62,755. He grabbed 16 of Johnson's passes for 256 yards.

The Giants pulled one out of the hat for a touchdown that put them ahead 24-21 in the final period. On a fake field goal, Ralph Guglielmi, the holder, jumped up and threw to defensive end, Andy Robustelli, for a 26-yard gain and a first down on the St. Louis 5. Alex Webster went over from the 3 two plays later.

After St. Louis came back again and went ahead on a 1-yard sneak by Johnson, set up by his own 16-yard keeper play, the Giants stormed back to win it with 3½ minutes left on a 20-yard drive.

'Just Played the Ball,' Nitschke Exhorts After Interception, Runback

Herb Adderly Not Surprised, Says He Felt 'Real Loose'

CHICAGO — Rolund Jackie Gleason fancies himself a conductor. George Burns has unfilled vocal aspirations — and bruising, beefy Raymond Carl Nitschke is a frustrated fullback. "I like to run with the ball—and I don't get a chance very often playing defense," the bone-bending linebacker imparted with an unabashed smile in a remote corner of the Packers' commodious Wrigley Field dressing room not

NU, Badgers Will Battle For Supremacy

Wildcats Remain Big 10's Only Unbeaten Team

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Northwestern and Wisconsin, little more than dark horses at the start of the season, battle for Big Ten football supremacy Saturday with the winner gaining an inside track towards the conference title and a trip to the Rose Bowl.

Following last week's wave of upsets, Northwestern and Minnesota emerged as top contenders for the elusive championship.

Northwestern's top-ranked Wildcats, the league's only undefeated team, survived a hectic afternoon and squeezed out a come-from-behind 26-21 victory over aroused Indiana, a team which has not defeated a Big Ten opponent in 18 games and three years.

Wisconsin scored three touchdowns in the final quarter to triumph 34-12 and Minnesota's tremendous defense stopped Michigan State 28-7 as the Gophers held the Spartans to 30 yards rushing.

Farm Reversals Then to complete the day of farm reversals, Iowa came up with a 28-14 triumph which eliminated defending champion Ohio State and Illinois, riding a 13-game losing streak, all but ended Purdue's title hopes with a rousing 14-10 victory.

Despite its 3-1 record, Wisconsin is faced with the ultimatum of either defeating Northwestern at Madison Saturday or bowing out of contention. The Badgers play a seven-game schedule and Northwestern plays six games.

Northwestern couldn't finish any lower than 5-1 by defeating Wisconsin which then could hope for no better than a 5-2 mark. Minnesota, also 3-1, is the only other contender with a seven-game schedule.

Although Purdue and Michigan State, both 2-1, have an outside chance for the crown, Northwestern could wrap up everything by scoring successive victories over Wisconsin and Michigan State.

A Northwestern loss along the way would not only keep the title-guessing game rolling but would also throw the Rose Bowl bid up for grabs.

A clearer picture as to the final outcome will be available after Saturday's games which find Northwestern at Wisconsin, Iowa at Minnesota, Purdue at Michigan State, Indiana at Ohio State and Illinois at Michigan.

Ragan Records Second Win in 7-Year Career

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—Dave Ragan put his second shot 18 inches from the pin on the 16th hole and won his second tournament in a seven-year golfing career—the $20,000 Beaumont Invitational.

It was this shot plus a hook by Lionel Hebert on the same hole that proved the turning point Sunday in a tournament that saw Ragan finish with a 2-under-par 70 for a 72-hole score of 283 and $2,000 first money.

Hebert was tied for second place by Don Massengale of Jacksonville, Tex., who had a closing 67 over the 6,656-yard Tyrrell Park Municipal Course, and Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., who finished with a 73. The trio each had 286 and each won $1,500.

Bo Winger of Odessa, Tex., Jerry Steelsmith of Glendale, Calif., and Rex Baxter Jr. of Amarillo, Tex., tied for fifth place at 287 and picked up $1,000 each.

long after he and his colleagues had massaged the Bears 38-7 Sunday afternoon. "Anytime I get my hands on it," Nitschke asserted, "I'm going for the goal. 'Hich is just what he did after waylating a Bill Wade pass late in the second quarter with dazzling effect.

Lunging about with abandon, the 235-pound Illinois alumnus who once sported a six-yard-per-carry average as an Illinois fullback, Nitschke rumbled 26 yards to Bear 18 before being spectacularly upended and hurtling nose-first to the turf.

Led to Field Goal His highly opportune "theft" led directly to Jerry Kramer's 17-yard field goal in the final minute of the first half, an item which lifted the Packers into a 10-7 lead and actually produced their margin of victory although they were subsequently to augment that tenuous three-point bulge with four touchdowns.

Nitschke, who has become a serious citizen with a highly developed "one-for-all" outlook, deprecated his contribution. "I just played the ball," he said. It was right to me—it was a poor throw."

Be that as it may, his was one of three grand larcenies that contributed mightily to the Packers' cause, this incredibly gray afternoon, the others being engineered by the far-ranging Herb Adderly and by radar expert Willie Wood, the National Football League's leading interceptor.

Adderly, rapidly gaining respect for his ball hawking, frisked the Bears at a very critical point, pilfering a pass from the straining hands of Johnny Morris on the Packers six-yard line with the score at 7-7 in the second quarter.

Morris, Herb confided, "ran a zig-out pattern and I had to turn around the maneuvered through an arc. When I got back, I was behind him." And, he might have added, in perfect position.

His coup came as no surprise. Adderly noted, "I felt real good before the game. 'I'm usually real nervous, but I wasn't today. It's my second time around the league and I've got an idea what these guys are going to do. I felt real loose out there."

Wood, who by picking off luckless Rudy Bukich's only pass of the day padded his league-leading interception total to seven, grinned and observed, "You've got to get the big play."

Great Pressure On his "steal," which shortly catapulted the Packers into a 24-7 third quarter lead, "the weak side halfback ran zig-out and Bukich rolled out to pass," Willie recalled. "The pressure was so great on him, he threw it up there."

"It happened so fast it almost surprised me," Wood confessed. "I didn't think he was going to throw. I just didn't think he was going to get the chance."

His interception, it may be remembered, came on the play following Bill Quinan's recovery (his second of a day) of a Bukich fumble, nullified by an offside ruling on the Packers.

"As long as he intercepted right after it," Bill said with a smile and a nonchalant wave of the hand, "it doesn't make any difference, win any way you can."

With that, he moved mirrorward, calling out, "Anybody got any of that greasy kid stuff?"

Jolting Jim Taylor, who had just completed his seventh 100-plus-yard day in eight attempts, explained the latest success secret. "We went for the quick opening stuff today, as we planned, to catch their defense while they were slumping."

"The less time you use to make your handoff or to get the ball in play," he pointed out with undeniable logic, "the less time they have to stunt."

Low Carpenter, limping Boyd Dowler's highly competent stand-in on this occasion, had taken the assignment in stride.

"I've played both of 'em at one time or another," he pointed out. "And almost the only difference is you get a little bit different perspective—the ball is coming in at a different angle. But the patterns are about the same on both sides."

"I was getting free pretty decent," the one-time Arkansas Razorback admitted, "but I may have been running my patterns a little deep. That comes with game experience, of course."

When the outcome became apparent, fans in the lower boxes were diverted by the antics of an unidentified male fan, who showed contempt for the near-freezing temperatures by surveying the action throughout while naked to the waist, except for a hat and tie.

Chicago Bear Quarterback Bill Wade (9) braces to pass, little knowing that Green Bay end Willie Davis (87) is about to hit him from behind before he can get the ball away. Two Bears blockers watch helplessly, Rick Casares (35) and tackle Lee Herman (70). The Bears lost five yards on this second quarter play at Wrigley Field Sunday. (AP Wirephoto)

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The Denver Broncos, dangerously close to being the worst team in the American Football League last year, are the new Western Conference leaders because of an alert defense and a hurry-up halfback named Donnie Stone.

With the Broncos capitalizing on three San Diego errors and Stone crashing through for three touchdowns, the Colorado upstarts, who dropped 11 of 14 games last year, overcame the defending conference champion Chargers 23-20 at San Diego Sunday. The triumph was the Broncos' seventh in nine games and boosted them to the top of the West over Dallas.

The Texans fell a half game behind, losing a 14-6 decision to Houston in their own Cotton Bowl backyard after trouncing the same Oilers 1-7 a week ago in Houston. It was the Texans' second defeat in eight games.

The Oilers' victory put them only a half game behind the Eastern Conference leading Boston Patriots, who were held to a 28-28 tie by the last-place Bills in Buffalo Saturday night.

Two Straight New York's Titans emerged from a last-place tie with Buffalo by beating winless Oakland 31-21 at the Polo Grounds in Sunday's other game. The Titans, with two straight victories, own a 4-5 record to Buffalo's 3-5-1.

Packers Crush Bears, Retain 2-Game Lead

Wade threw to big Mike Ditka for 17 and Rick Casares took it to the Bay 31. Wade threw to Morris for 13 but a "roughing" penalty set it on the 15. Ronnie Bull then hit for 7 off right end and fumbled. The official ruled a recovery by Willie Wood and new teams came onto the field. However, another official ruled that the ball was dead before Bull fumbled. Anyway, the Bears kept the ball.

Five plays later, Wade, rolling out to his right, hit Adams in the end zone for the touchdown. Roger Le Clerc's kick made it 7-up early in the second quarter. Late in the period, Adderly intercepted a Wade pass to a Bear threat and moments later Nitschke intercepted to set up Kramer's field goal for a 10-8 lead.

Punts Twice Dowler punted twice and Green once to start the second half. Dowler's second punt hit Rouse. The tie left the Browns with a 10-10 tie. Taylor who had his back to 4-3-1 record, and Philadelphia the punter, and Ringo recovered on the Bear 28. On the first play, Starr fired a sharp pass to McGee for 27 yards to the one. On the next play, Taylor leaped over right tackle for the TD.

The Bears got ruled up when first seven. They just won't quit, the officials allowed Bull to pick up a "grounded" pass by Wade and run for a 20-yard gain to the Pack 18. On the next play, the Packers line smothered Wade and Quinan recovered the inevitable fumble.

Taylor then ran for 51 yards on a sweep around right end to the Bear 23. Starr lost 12 trying to pass and Kramer then went back for a field goal. Starr grabbed the ball and attempted a pass but two Bears ran Bart out of bounds.

Wood Intercepts Just before the third period ended, Wood intercepted a pass attempt by Rudy Bukich and the Packers were off to the races. The Packers were off to the races, starting from the Bear 28. Starr led off with an 11-yard pass to Ron Kramer. Moore then ran 17 yards for a TD but a holding penalty killed it. Two plays later, Starr hurled a 17-yard pass to Moore and this time the Bears were nicked for a personal foul.

From the 5, the Packers scored in four plays, Taylor leaping the last yard.

After the Bears took the ball on downs, they moved 60 yards in 9 plays. The series opened with a clipping penalty on Taylor's 13-yard run but Starr hurled 15 to McGee and 32 on a screen to Moore to the Bear 12.

John Roach took over at QB—plus Gros, Ed Blaine, Gary Knafele and Elijah Pitts after Adderly's fumble recovery gave the Pack the ball with 2:20 left. Gros, Pitts and Roach each ran 5 yards and then Gros streaked around right end for 26 yards to the 3. With 23 seconds left Gros powered up the middle for the TD.

That gave the Bays' LSU grads five touchdowns for the day!

Ryan Happy With Passing but Runs For 119 Yards

CLEVELAND (AP)—Unhappiest of the Cleveland clan, after Sunday's unsatisfactory 14-14 deadlock with Philadelphia's Eagles, was Browns' quarterback Frank Ryan—who outthrew all the enemy ball carriers.

Making his first start as a replacement for injured Jim Nowinski, the 200-pound, 6-foot-3 Texan gained 85 yards in nine carries, scored a touchdown and completed 10 of 23 passes for 119 yards. The Eagles rushed for 65.

"I'm not being paid to run—I'm paid to pass, and I didn't do it too well," Ryan said. "I have no excuse, for I've thrown a wet ball before."

Coach Paul Brown, who along with 63,848 spectators watched his Browns drop 1½ games back of the New York Giants in the National Football League's Eastern Division, had little comment.

Find No Fault "We just couldn't come up with the big play," Brown said. "I find no fault with Ryan—it's just tough to make a quarterback change in the middle of the season. He'll come along."

And big Lou Groza, who has booted 187 field goals during his long career with the Browns—and won many games with the three-pointers—had no excuse for missing three from 11, 42 and 45 yards.

"The 11-yarder, which was blocked, had a too low trajectory," big Lou said. "On a muddy field it is tough to kick the long ones due to the uncertain footing going up to the ball."

He neglected to say that Bobby Franklin, who handles the ball for placekicks, was out of the game—and perhaps out for the season—with a broken collarbone incurred early in the game.

The game was frustrating for both sides. Each team had three passes intercepted, each lost a fumble. The Eagles' Bobby Watson missed two field goals—the last in the second from 41 yards—and Groza missed three.

Tough Time for Brown Jim Brown, who is having a tough time after leading the league in rushing the last five years, gained 69 yards in 20 tries. But his fumble on the first play of the game, which John Nocera recovered on the Brown 25, led to the Eagles' first score.

Clarence Peaks scatted-backed around his left end for 22 yards and the Yankees to build after kicking the American League team out as tenants in the winter of 1921-22.

Whitewater Handed First Setback, 21-20

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS A blocked conversion try in the final minute Saturday night enabled La Crosse to edge Whitewater 21-20 and hand the champion Warhawks their only Wisconsin State College Conference football loss of the season.

The game, wrapping up league competition for the campaign, gave Whitewater a final conference standing of six victories in seven starts. La Crosse finished in fifth place with a 4-3 record.

In final action, against Minnesota opposition, River Falls tied Winona 13-13. Stout fell before St. Cloud 21-12 and Platteville took a 41-0 pounding from Mankato. Wisconsin-Milwaukee lost to Bradley 20-6.

Superior closed Friday night with a 35-15 triumph over Bemidji of Minnesota. Other loop teams wound up action the weekend before La Crosse and Whitewater finish this Saturday against Northern Illinois and St. Norbert, respectively.

Jim Edwards kicked three extra points for La Crosse, two of them after touchdowns by Neil Nelson. John Martinek made a touchdown and kicked two extra points but his final try was goal on Wall Nowicki's extra blocked.

Steelers Outlast Vikings, 39 to 31

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Lou Michaels' 31-yard field goal with 27 seconds remaining offset the brilliant passing of Minnesota's Fran Tarkenton and gave the Pittsburgh Steelers a 39-31 victory over the Vikings Sunday in a spine-tling National Football League game.

The field goal followed moments after a 42-yard field goal by Tom Christopherson which had given the Vikings the lead for the first time in the nerve-racking fray.

Following Michaels' field goal, Willie Daniel intercepted a Tarkenton pass deep in Minnesota territory. One play later halfback Dick Hoak boled 18 yards for a touchdown to put the icing on the Steelers' fourth victory.

Tarkenton, the Vikings dazzling sophomore signal caller, threw four touchdown passes. He also set up Christopherson's three-point throw on another pass, a 33-yard heave to Mel Triplett, in a tremendous effort to run Minnesota's winning to three. Tarkenton ended the day with 13 completions in 31 attempts for 240 yards.

John McGraw's Widow Dies

Never Lost Her Interest In Baseball

BY JOE REICHLER NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. John J. McGraw, widow of the famed manager of the New York Giants, died Sunday night. She was 61.

Death came to the wife of the legendary baseball figure at St. Vincent's Hospital, which she had entered last Tuesday.

Mrs. McGraw suffered a stroke last January but had recovered sufficiently to pay an occasional visit last summer to the Polo Grounds, where her husband had achieved his greatest fame through a riotous 30-year career that brought the Giants 10 pennants and earned him the reputation as "the greatest manager of them all."

Mrs. McGraw never lost her love for baseball in general and the Giants in particular. In the years following the death of the Little Napoleon in 1934 she was a steady visitor at both the Polo grounds and Yankee Stadium, which her husband had forced the Yankees to build after kicking the American League team out as tenants in the winter of 1921-22.

With Mrs. Mathewson On occasions, Mrs. McGraw was accompanied by Mrs. Christy Mathewson, widow of the immortal pitching star who helped McGraw win National League pennants in 1904, 1905, 1911, 1912 and 1913. She often said her saddest moment since her husband's death came when Horace Stoneham decided to take the Giants out of New York, moving them to San Francisco after the 1957 season.

Although Tittle hit Gifford with a 39-yard TD pass in the first period, the Bald Eagle was having a rough time from the Cards' rush line. Johnson tied the score with an 8-yard pass to Taz Anderson in the second period but the Giants went ahead again 10-7 on Don Chandler's 32-yard field goal set up by Johnny Counts' 63-yard kickoff return.

The Cards came right back, moving 56 yards in six plays with John David Crow slamming home from the 4 for a 14-10 halftime lead.

Chiefs Win, 9-7, In Last Seconds

MANITOWOC — Quarterback Dick Odgaard sneaked over from the 1-yard line with 25 seconds to give the Manitowoc County Chiefs a 9-7 win over Sheboygan here Saturday night.

Odgaard completed four straight passes in a 60-yard drive that carried the Chiefs to the winning touchdown. The win was Manitowoc's ninth straight of the year.

Odgaard's ninth straight of the year was the Central States League team's 14th straight in two years after touchdowns by Neil Nelson. John Martinek made a touchdown and kicked two extra points but his final try was goal on Wall Nowicki's extra blocked.

Colts Grab Early Lead On Freak Safety, Post 22-3 Win Over 49ers

San Francisco Fans Boo Team Following Second Loss in Row

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Baltimore grabbed an early lead on a freak safety and drove on to overwhelm the sputtering San Francisco 49ers 22-3 in their National Football League battle Sunday.

With Bill Kilmer behind the goal to pass, a 49er was detected holding in the end zone making an automatic 2-point safety despite completion of the toss to the 27.

Baltimore ran its total to five points in the first quarter on Dick Bielecki's 37-yard field goal.

San Francisco tallied three points on Tommy Davis' 24-yard placement making the halftime score 5-3. The first touchdown didn't come until only 49 seconds remained in the third quarter when Johnny Unitas hit Lenny Moore with a six-yard pass. The tally came five plays after Billy Ray Smith recovered a fumble by John Brodie on the San Francisco 33.

Hawkins Scores
Bielecki contributed a 20-yard field goal in the final period and Alex Hawkins gave the Colts their second touchdown with a nine-yard smash culminating a 48-yard drive with less than two minutes remaining. Bielecki booted his second conversion.

The victory gave Baltimore a 4-4 record and squared accounts with the 49ers, now 3-5, who heat them 21-13 last month in Baltimore and went into this game slightly favored.

A crowd of 44,875 booed the home club, which lost to Los Angeles here last week. The roars of disapproval reached a crescendo when Brodie's fumble set up the Colts' first touchdown.

Coach Red Hickey alternated Kilmer, Brodie and Bobby Waters at quarterback to no avail. Two players he had given up—fullback Joe Perry and end R. C. Owens—aided the Colts' cause.

Field Goal Short
Owens returned a short Davis field goal attempt 41 yards to pave the way for Bielecki's second three-pointer of the afternoon.

San Francisco's frustration this sunny day was typified in one Kilmer play in which he evaded four Baltimore tacklers only to be knocked down by his own center, Bruce Bosley, behind the line of scrimmage. The 49ers missed a scoring chance at the opening of the third period and nullified the Woodson's brilliant 79-yard kickoff return to the Colts' 16.

After two running plays lost ground, Jim Welch intercepted a Kilmer pass.

was called back," he added soberly. "That was a picture run." The officiating (turning point) are not always as easy to find when a team wins by five touchdowns had been something less than professional, a veteran Milwaukee writer opined. "They looked a little jittery," Vince conceded, "but I have no comment."

What about that incomplete pass to Ron Bull that was ruled a fumble? "I have no comment of that, either," Lombardi twinkled, "I will say it was obvious to everybody."

"How do you get the Bears to make so many mistakes," a facetious Chicago writer queried. "We made quite a few ourselves," the Packer strategist rejoined. "We didn't throw the ball up, but we had a lot of penalties today."

The conversation turned to the Packers' invalids, Boyd Dowler and Paul Hornung. "Dowler will be all right next week," Vince revealed. "He has pain in his left leg (Lombardi tapped an area on his own just below the knee). It was one of those freak accidents in practice" (incurred in an encounter with Henry Jordan).

"I hadn't planned to use Hornung. I wanted to give him another week," he explained. "If the weather had been good, I might have given him a couple of shots. He should be ready next week."

Did he feel the Packers might have been in something of a slump in recent weeks? "No, I don't think so," was the considered reply. "I think the teams are pretty aroused against us—they give maximum effort. Remember, this one today was anybody's ball game until the middle of the third quarter."

Had it been hard to "get the Packers up" for the Bears after that 49-0 rout at Green Bay early in the season? "You don't have to worry about getting the Packers up, when you're playing the Bears," Vince grinned.

In this connection, Lombardi declared, "Carpenter (filling in at right half for Dowler) did a real fine job. He's a fine athlete—he could play quarterback if he had to."

Blockbusting rookie Earl Gros "is a tough kid," Vince also noted. "He has good size and good speed—a pretty fair combination."

A New Defense
Tom Moore, a writer ventured, appears to be running harder, a little more like Taylor. "Moore always was a hard runner," the Packer chieftain informed the scribe. Any surprises from the Bears? "Yes," Vince replied. "They used a new defense we hadn't seen, an odd-man line with the linebacker shifted one way. But they have so many," he chuckled, "that it was just one more."

Had it given much trouble? "Not too much," he said. "It did for one or two series."

Had he called any plays? "Yes three," Lombardi said, throwing back his head to release a hearty chuckle. "Two of 'em were called back (including Moore's touchdown run) and one was unsuccessful."

fallen his Bears with good grace, was not convinced it had been inevitable.

"We were doing pretty good until that freak play (third quarter punt that bounced off Roosevelt Taylor and was recovered by Jim Ringo, a development that triggered the Packers' surge to a 17-7 lead). "He confided while en route to Wrigley Field's "Pink Puddle," where he held forth at some length.

"That was the most freakish play in the books," George insisted.

"A player gets hit in the back with the ball," Halas lamented. "He was facing north and the punt was coming from the south." Taylor apparently felt the ball was going to bounce over his head, it was suggested. "Yes, sure he did," Halas replied. "He came down short in the middle of his stride."

Avalanche of Mistakes
That was the beginning of the end," the 68-year-old Bruin major domo added. "With an avalanche of mistakes we made, and the great play of the Packers, it was too much for us."

Had he figured, despite the Packers' awesome record and that earlier 49-0 dismantling on Green Bay soil, on winning this one? "I figure on winning every game we go into," was the unhesitating reply.

Obviously, then, he didn't consider the Packers a super-team, as they have been described in some NFL quarters. "They weren't one," Halas said dryly. "until that particular play in the third quarter. We were in it until then. In fact, we were in great position—it was a short punt."

George, who now had been studying the statistics at a heavily populated Pink Puddle table at some length, looked up and volunteered with a puckish grin. "I don't see anything interesting in the figures, either."

His Bears had played defensive titans Detroit and Green Bay back to back, it was noted. "A delightful chore," Halas commented with a wintry smile. "It proves Detroit's defense is three times better than the Packers—the Lions gave us 75 yards and the Packers 212."

He was "only kidding," George was quick to add.

Did he think the Packers could go through unbeaten? Halas refused to make a prediction, asserting, "that's up to them."

Halas may not consider the Packers a super-team but one of his employees, bruising Mike Ditka, is highly impressed with Lombardi's legions. "I haven't been around too long," says sophomore Ditka, "but the Packers are beyond a doubt the best team I've ever seen—and I'm sure they have to be the best team in pro history."

"They have superb confidence," Ditka declared. "We came into this game fully intending to win—and we felt we were going to. We feel we are the second best team in the league next to the Packers, but the distance between us is tremendous."

"They call the right play, the right red dog," Ditka marveled. "They're the right blend of poise and confidence."

When the Packers performed here without conspicuous success in the 50's, they were greeted by the Bear faithful with something akin to affection—but not so any more. The world champions, who had beaten the Bruins six straight going into action, were roundly booed when they appeared for their pre-game warmup and again when they emerged here without conspicuous success in the 50's.

Resilient George Stanley Halas, from the dugout to deploy for although accepting what had been the second half.

Savings Possible On Tax Payments

BY SYLVIA PORTER

You have 36 days left in which to cut the federal taxes you'll owe on your 1962 income. And the odds are overwhelming that this year you can save money if you know what to do and when to do it.

Next spring all you will do is fill out your tax return and try to make sure you pay no more than the minimum you owe in taxes. In these weeks before the deadline Dec. 31, 1962, though, you can, by wise before-the-year end tax planning, cut that minimum. And this fall the opportunities to achieve tax savings are the best in years because of the outlook for tax rate reductions, because of the two major tax laws passed in 1962, because of the stock market's crash, because of significant new rulings by the Treasury and the tax courts.

In this series of nine columns beginning today, you'll find facts and guides which I know can be of major tax-saving value to millions of you.

To begin with, this is the first year in a long time in which the prospect that tax rates will be lower next year should be a key consideration in your year-end tax planning moves.

Pledge Made

The President is on record with a pledge that he'll ask Congress to cut both individual and corporate tax rates across-the-board and from top to bottom in 1963. Of course there is no certainty that the tax reductions will occur in view of the critical international situation and the big deficit in the budget, but since some assumptions must be made, a reasonable assumption is that tax cuts are on the way. If the reductions are voted, another reasonable assumption is that rates in each of the lower and middle income brackets would be cut by three to four points.

To illustrate, if you are a married man with a taxable income between $8,000 and $12,000, your present top tax rate of 26 per cent would drop to 22 or 23 per cent. What does this mean to you? It means that you should generally try to shift some income from 1962 into 1963 and to move ahead into 1962 deductible expenditures which you might otherwise hold off until 1963. These steps will cut your 1962 taxable income and raise your 1963 income, and if the 1963 rates are lower they will give you an over-all tax saving.

If you can shift $1,000 of income which you ordinarily would receive in 1962 into 1963, for instance, and your tax rate is cut by four points, you would save $40 in taxes just by making this shift. In addition, you would benefit by having the use of tax money for an extra year. If you receive $1,000 in 1962, the tax on it must be paid by April 1963. But if you postpone $1,000 of income which you normally would receive in December 1962 to January 1963, you would not have to pay the tax on that $1,000—say $260—until April 1964.

Don't go overboard on shifting income, though. By not considering your income bracket or by doing too much shifting, you might wind up paying more tax than you otherwise would. For example, if you, a married man, would ordinarily have $12,000 of taxable income in 1962 and $12,000 in 1963, it would not be wise for you to shift $1,000 from 1962 into 1963, assuming you could manage this. The shift of $1,000 to 1963 would raise your income in 1963 to $13,000, and that would move you into the next rate bracket of $12,000 to $16,000 a bracket taxed at 30 per cent, or four points more than the 26 per cent rate in the $8,000-$12,000 bracket. If the tax cut doesn't go through, the shift would cost you four percentage points more, or if the tax cut is only three points, it would cost you one percentage point more.

Exceptions Noted

And, as always there are exceptions to general rules. Despite the prospect for tax cuts in 1963, you might want to push 1963 income into 1962 if you expect to be divorced next year or to lose your present status as head of a household or if you anticipate a substantial pay raise in 1963 or if you are a widow or widower whose spouse died in 1960 and your income splitting privileges run out this year.

Sweets Don't Cause Attacks of Diabetes

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. (keep it from killing people prematurely.)

Dear Dr. Molner: Recently a drug clerk told my sister that there are many cases of diabetes among young people and he attributed this to the fact that they consume so many sweets, candies, soft drinks, etc.

I always had thought that any sugar taken into the body was eliminated via the kidneys. Although my four children eat well-balanced diets of meat and fish, cereals, vegetables and salads, they are often treated to sweets after meals — not as a replacement for meals. I would appreciate your opinion. — L.K.

My opinion is that your sister ought to listen to smarter drug clerks. Sugar doesn't cause diabetes, except to the extent that people who are fat are more likely to develop the disease than those who aren't.

There's substantial reason to believe that diabetes is increasing simply because in the last 35 years we have found out how to

Hereditary Important

Many who used to die in misery at an early age now live to have children and raise them, and see grandchildren grow up. Heredity plays a big role in diabetes. Reasonable amounts of sweets aren't dangerous. They are good. Just keep desserts as desserts and there's no need to be fearful.

Dear Dr. Molner: My sister's five-year-old son had a fit the other day for the first time. She took him to the hospital and tests showed signs of epilepsy. The doctor said to watch him and come back in six months for another test and maybe by that time it will have cleared up.

I recently read that there is a medicine for this disease. Shouldn't the child be taking it for these forthcoming six months? — B.M.

Not necessarily. While it is true that several medicines have been developed for epilepsy, they do not "cure" the disease in the sense of correcting the basic defect.

Relax Patient

Instead of the medications — called anti-convulsant drugs — relax to the patient enough to prevent the convulsions or "fits" from occurring. They do not cure the epilepsy; they suppress symptoms.

The symptoms — convulsions — are the principal consequence of epilepsy, so preventing them renders the disease harmless to the patient for all practical purposes.

Since the boy in question has had only one, it is possible that it was not caused by epilepsy but by something else, perhaps a transient childhood infection and fever, plus being too tired.

If it isn't epilepsy, starting medication now is wasteful. If it is, and another convulsion occurs, go to the doctor at once and medication can be started.

Not Sick

Dear Doctor, I've heard of arthritis, neuritis and rheumatism, but what do I have? I'm only 14 years old and I often get a terrible pain in my shoulder. It started about eight months ago and most often comes when I sit still a long time as in church or assembly in other test and maybe by that time it will have cleared up.

If it were arthritis or rheumatism it would be in the joints and worsen with motion; if neuritis, in the nerves, and it would be persistent and in muscular areas. It could be bursitis, too.

Since it comes only when you sit a long time and are feeling bored, or under a strain, let's guess it's muscle spasm or just plain tenseness. Some of us at 14 noticed that an equal amount of sitting at a movie or football game never caused the pain!

Pacific Tests End for U.S. With Success

Low-Yield Shot In Johnston Island Is Unspectacular

HONOLULU (AP)—The United States has lowered the curtain on its Pacific high-altitude nuclear test series by detonating an unspectacular low-yield device over Johnston Island.

The shot was the fifth success in nine high-altitude tries this year, and represented a breakthrough in the series. Only two weeks ago, the United States had one success and four failures on its scorecard.

Four straight "winners" put the program on the plus side. Then Joint Task Force 8 announced the completion of the long, drawn-out series which should have ended last July.

Two Displays

After treating the Hawaiian Islands to two magnificent auroral displays, one which was seen from New Zealand to Alaska, and two lesser sights, scientists at distant Johnston Island bowed out with a relatively small explosion.

In Honolulu, some 750 miles away, it appeared only as a blue and white flash of light, although it had the strength of the atom bomb that leveled Hiroshima in 1945.

The low-yield device was lifted skyward from its Johnston Island launching pad by an Army Nike-Hercules rocket. It marked the first use of the Nike as a nuclear carrier in altitude testing, and was the first occasion on which a device had been exploded at the scheduled time.

Saturday's success apparently had no effect on transpacific communications. The Federal Aviation Agency and the Air Force reported their radio channels remained normal during the test. The same word came from civilian airlines and communications agencies.

A prime purpose of the altitude tests is to determine if nuclear blasts can hide missile attacks or, conversely, knock out warning systems.

Court Upholds Block Booking Ban on Films

Affirms Order by U. S. District Judge
Under Sherman Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court affirmed today an order barring six distributors of motion pictures from block booking in selling and licensing their films to television stations.

The order was issued by U.S. Dist. Judge Archie O. Dawson in New York who ruled that some block booking deals violated the Sherman Anti-Trust law.

Justice Arthur J. Goldberg delivered the Supreme Court's main opinion, his first since he took his seat on the high tribunal on Oct. 1. It also was the first opinion to be handed down in the court's new term after the hearing of formal arguments.

All nine justices agreed that block booking practices violated the Sherman Act. But Justices Harlan and Stewart in a separate opinion said they disagreed with the majority holding that the case should be sent back to Judge Dawson to order additional relief as requested by the Justice Department. Harlan and Stewart said the court should not have concerned itself at all "with such comparatively trivial remedial glosses."

Goldberg's opinion declared that "the tie-in agreements" in the sale of old movies "are illegal and in violation of the act."

Block booking was described by the Justice Department as a practice of selling or licensing feature films in blocks or packages, with the booking of one movie conditioned upon the booking of one or more other features.

The department said the practice resulted in television stations being obliged to take unwanted films as a condition to obtaining desired films.

The Supreme Court in a 1948 antitrust law decision condemned block booking of films for movie theaters.

Dawson's order applied to Lowe's Inc., C & C Super Corp., Screen Gems Inc., Associated Artists Productions Inc., National Tele-Film Associates Inc. and United Artists Corp.

U. S. Embassy Worker Told To Quit Russia

Espionage Charges
Fabrication, State Department Asserts

BY GEORGE SYVERTSEN

MOSCOW (AP)—For the third time in a month the Soviet Union has accused a member of the U.S. Embassy staff of spying and ordered him out of the country.

The state Department termed the latest charges, against Richard Carl Jacob, a secretary-archivist, "a complete fabrication." Jacob, 26, was accused of "maintaining secret liaison with a spy on the territory of the Soviet Union."

Tass, the Soviet news agency said he was "caught redhanded" while removing intelligence data from a secret hiding place in the entrance hall of house number 3-5 in Pushkinskaya Street in Moscow.

Forced Into Auto
The nature of the material, said Tass, established "beyond a shadow of a doubt" that Jacob was in contact with an undercover agent.

An embassy spokesman said Jacob was arrested Friday, forced into a car and detained for 2½ hours at a militia station. The embassy protested to the Soviet Foreign Ministry that he had been illegally detained in violation of the diplomatic immunity to which he was entitled.

The embassy refused to say what Jacob was doing when he was picked up.

Earlier Accusation
Jacob, a bachelor from Egg Harbor City, N.J., had served in Moscow for 10 months. A Dartmouth graduate, he attended the University of Munich for a year as a Fulbright scholar. After six months in the Army, he joined the State Department about 2½ years ago and entered the Foreign Service last November.

The Russians on Oct. 5 accused Lt. Cmdr. Raymond D. Smith, an assistant U.S. naval attaché, of photographing Soviet naval installations in Leningrad and expelled him. A week later they expelled an embassy first secretary, Kermit S. Middleton, and charged him with attempting to buy secrets from a Soviet citizen.

The State Department said Smith and Middleton obviously were expelled in retaliation for the expulsion from the United States of two members of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations who were charged with buying military secrets from a U.S. Navy sailor.

The Cuban situation, said the editorial, is "a crisis of carrying out an appeasement policy toward a U.S. imperialist aggression and a heart attack of encouraging U.S. imperialism to pursue even more insatiably its policies of aggression and war."

The attempt to play the Munich scheme against the Cuban people who have already stood on their own feet is doomed to complete failure," the paper said.

The People's Daily also backed Prime Minister Fidel Castro's contention that U.N. inspection of the removal of the missiles—proposed by Russia—would be a "serious violation of Cuba's sovereignty."

Eklund, a Milwaukee Journal, has been living in Washington recently and died shortly after coming here for a lecture.

Eklund achieved international recognition as an Antarctic explorer and scientist and was scientific leader in the Antarctic International Geophysics Year from 1956 to 1958.

Independent Poll Indicates Brown Will Beat Nixon

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An independent poll favoring Gov. Edmund G. Brown set the stage today for a dramatic finale to Richard M. Nixon's battle for the governorship of California and a political comeback.

Nixon, while "supremely confident," suddenly cancelled a series of pep-up visits to Los Angeles campaign headquarters for a no-text appearance on a statewide television network tonight.

His announcement came shortly after newspapers published the findings of the California Poll taken Oct. 30-Nov. 1. The results showed Brown ahead, 48 to 41 percent, with 11 per cent undecided. The Sept. 27 poll also tilted toward the Democratic governor.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, said the poll by the Mervin Field Organization had nothing to do with the last-minute change of plans.

White House Plane Returns Pilot's Body

WASHINGTON (AP)—A White House plane today carried home to South Carolina the body of Maj. Rudolf Anderson, a flier who perished in a reconnaissance mission over Cuba.

The 35-year-old Air Force pilot will be buried Tuesday with full military honors in a private ceremony.

Cuba Surveillance Will be Continued

Must Outlast Missile Crisis,
President Kennedy Believes

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy feels U.S. surveillance of Cuba will have to be continued in some form long after the current missile crisis is settled, government sources report.

In offering his view of the President's thinking to newsmen Sunday, the sources did not specify how the watch would be kept, but the object they said, would be to guard against any future introduction of Soviet missiles into Cuba.

Aerial photographs of the island last month gave the first hard evidence that the Soviet Union was mounting an offensive missile threat in Cuba, the White House has said. It was from aerial photos taken last Thursday that the administration concluded Soviet Premier Khrushchev had begun to make good on his pledge to tear down the missile bases.

The Navy, in maintaining an arm's blockade of Cuba, has also been filling a surveillance role. Removal of the missiles and other Soviet offensive arms from Cuba remains a thorny problem.

By the terms of the Kennedy-Khrushchev agreement, the United Nations would supervise the removal of the missiles. The government sources who discussed Kennedy's position emphasized that he is determined to verify the removal of the weapons by international inspection teams—and that nothing less will be satisfactory.

While the United States and the Soviet union are reported prepared to have the international Red Cross fill the inspection role originally proposed for the United Nations Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro has the power to bar the Navy, in maintaining an arm's blockade of Cuba, has also been filling a surveillance role.

No Nobel Peace Prize Awarded

OSLO, Norway (AP)—The Nobel Committee of the Norwegian Storting (Parliament) today announced it had decided not to award the Nobel Peace Prize for 1962.

The prize money has been reserved for next year, the brief announcement said.

No reason was given for the committee's decision, but in the past the prize has not been awarded in times of great crisis.

Informed sources said the committee regarded the world situation as "too labile"—that is too unstable—to make any award this year.

Webster's Third International Dictionary defines the word "labile" as meaning: Characterized by a ready tendency toward or capability for change; readily or continually undergoing chemical or physical or biological change or breakdown.

GOP Hopes for Some Key Governorships; No Great Congress Upsets Likely

BY JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans looking toward the 1964 presidential contest nurtured high hopes today of winning key governor's posts when about 50 million Americans go to the polls Tuesday.

In an interim election which may be influenced by the continuing crisis over Cuba, Democrats expected to come close to holding their own in House contests and even talked of the possibility of small Senate gains.

At about 169,000 polling places from Maine to Hawaii, voters will officially choose 35 governors, 39 senators and 435 House members.

If the usual pattern is maintained, balloting will begin shortly after midnight tonight in a couple of New Hampshire hamlets and end at 2 a.m., EST, Wednesday in the reaches of Alaska's farthest west time zone.

Chilly, Fair Weather Likely
The Weather Bureau predicted dry but chilly Election Day weather for most of the nation.

President Kennedy was scheduled to fly to Boston late today to cast his ballot there Tuesday for his brother, Edward M. Kennedy, who is rated a sure winner in the Massachusetts race for the President's old Senate seat.

The White House said the First Lady has cast an absentee ballot and will not make the trip.

The President's recorded radio and television appeals last week urging Americans "to take part in our democracy" by voting in the election.

GOVERNORSHIP

On the eve of the election, Republicans were favored to win 19 of the governorship races. Democrats 16. This could alter radically the present bases of power in the states where presidential elections are won or lost.

The GOP now holds the governorships of only 16 states with 129 electoral votes. There are con-

Polaris Sub to be Named Rayburn

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has decided to name a new Polaris missile-firing submarine for Sam Rayburn, long-time speaker of the House who died a year ago.

The Defense Department announced this Saturday and said the keel of the submarine will be laid Dec. 3 at the Newport News Shipbuilding & Drydock Co., Newport News, Va.

The announcement noted that Polaris submarines "are named for great patriots who have rendered distinguished service to the cause of freedom."

Rayburn served as speaker of the House about 18 years. He was elected to the House from Texas in 1913 and served continuously in the chamber until his death in November 1961.

37,000 Seek Polio Shots in Arkansas

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Frightened by the possibility of a polio epidemic, more than 37,000 residents of this Ozark Mountain area swarmed to immunization centers.

The supply of Type I Sabin oral polio vaccine on hand—30,000 doses—was exhausted in the first 30 minutes Sunday. Many waited for hours in the frigid mountain air while an Arkansas National Guard plane flew in 20,000 additional doses from Dallas, Tex.

tests in 14 of these states. Only the governors of Montana and Utah, which have a total of eight electoral votes, are Republican holdovers.

Democrats are governors in 34 states which will cast 406 electoral votes in 1964. There are no contests this year in 13 of these with 152 electoral votes.

Because their chances of making any substantial gains in the House and Senate races appear dim, Republicans are looking to the governor contests not only to give them an upward surge to

Military Post Lost by India

Defenders Leave
Northern End of Line at Ladakh

NEW DELHI (AP)—The Indian government announced today the loss of one of its most important military positions on the battle lines to the Chinese Communists.

The position at Daulat Beg Oldi, at the northern end of the line in Ladakh, was evacuated a few days ago, a Defense Ministry spokesman said.

Ladakh is at the western end of the Himalayan border.

The outpost at Daulat Beg Oldi was the center of a series of smaller posts, all of which fell earlier.

The Chinese have now crossed what they claim to be their border with India at one or two places and have driven beyond the disputed territory.

Peace Hopes Dim
New Delhi officials think there are no chances now of a negotiated peace with the Chinese.

Prime Minister Nehru has demanded the Chinese withdrawal to positions they held before Sept. 8 and has rejected proposals of a cease-fire and peace talks until they do. The Chinese offensive in both the northeast and northwest area of Ladakh was launched Oct. 20.

Nehru was reported preparing another reply to Soviet Premier Khrushchev to that effect.

But it appears here that the Chinese have no intention of going back to their Sept. 8 positions.

Khrushchev sent Nehru his proposal for a cease-fire without conditions last Friday. A primary aim of the Soviet peace gesture appeared to be to get the conflict stopped before India falls out of its neutral alignment. A Pravda editorial warned India against "the intrigues of the imperialist camp" and also absolved Peiping of any aggressive intent.

Informants said Nehru would tell Khrushchev there could be a cease-fire and peace talks tomorrow if the Chinese pull back but that otherwise "there is no alternative left to us but to resist this attack, whatever may be the cost or the consequences to us."

Mother-in-Law Tipped FBI

Alleged Bank Robber Arrested After Chase

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Albert Frederic Nussbaum Jr., 28, alleged bank robber and one of the FBI's 10 most wanted men, has been captured here following a reported tip to the FBI by his mother-in-law.

Soon after he was seized early Sunday following a 20-minute high-speed automobile chase by the FBI and Buffalo police, Nussbaum became groggy and was rushed to a hospital, where his stomach was pumped.

A physician said Nussbaum apparently had swallowed something to cause the grogginess.

No shots were fired. A 22-caliber rifle, ammunition for it and two live hand grenades, were found in the car but Nussbaum surrendered without a struggle, agents said.

The Buffalo Courier-Express said it had learned from an au-

Nussbaum's mother-in-law, Mrs. Sylvester Majchrowska, had telephoned the FBI Saturday night and said her daughter had spoken to Nussbaum on the telephone a short time earlier.

The FBI declined to discuss how Nussbaum was located. Nussbaum and Bobby Randall Wilcoxson, 33, of Delray Beach Fla., who still is missing, are charged with participating in four bank robberies in which a total of more than $160,000 was taken in Buffalo, Washington, D.C. and Brooklyn. Wilcoxson, another of the FBI's 10 most wanted men, allegedly shot and killed a policeman in the Brooklyn holdup.

Nussbaum undoubtedly will be questioned about the $1½ million Plymouth, Mass., mail truck robbery last Aug. 14. Boston police had circulated composite drawings of persons involved in the robbery. New England's chief postal inspector, William F. White said two drawings bore "a strong resemblance" to Nussbaum and Wilcoxson.

Calumet Reports Highway Costs in 1962 at $454,149

$148,531 Machinery Fund Said To be Largest Single Expenditure

CHILTON — The preliminary report of the Calumet County Highway Department shows expenditures of $454,149 during 1962 up to the time the report was prepared last week.

Costs amounting to $148,531 out of the machinery fund was the largest single factor. Included were $50,784 in new equipment purchased, $47,099 for operation of equipment, $32,349 for shop operation and $18,207 for the new shop at Forest Junction. The ma-

Tax Base for County School Chief Reduced

Only 2 Calumet Districts Support Superintendent

CHILTON — School district reorganization, which brought much of the county under the supervision of city school superintendents, has cut sharply into the tax base that provides for the services of the county superintendent of schools.

The base was cut by almost two-thirds. It now stands at $18,024,769 compared with $45,581,370 last year before district reorganization. The reduction amounts to $27,556,601.

Last year the territory taxed for the superintendent consisted of the village high school districts of Hilbert and Stockbridge, the state graded districts at Harrison and Forest Junction and the nine one-room school districts. All that remains now to support the program are the two village high school districts.

The new tax base areas will, in addition to their general county taxes, be required to raise the $12,570 budgeted for the superintendent's office.

Areas Responsible

Three areas were primarily responsible for the difference, the townships of Harrison, Brotherhood and Billion. Brotherhood, which last year provided $6,031,590 toward the $45 million base, has been eliminated completely by joining the Chilton and New Holston districts.

Harrison, which went to Kaukauna, Kimberly, Appleton and Hilbert, last year contributed a hefty $12,970,550 toward the base. All that remains is the $1,772,400 valuation of property in Hilbert's district.

Brillion's share of the base was cut from $5,248,300 last year to $2,970 this year by virtue of attachment to the Brillion district of a major share of its territory. In the Town of Chilton, the territory in Hilbert and Stockbridge districts amounts to $1,673,470. Attachment to Chilton of a portion of the Twain District resulted in the cut from $2,311,030 last year.

The proportionate valuations of other municipalities contributing toward the service are Rantoul, $2,030,350; Town of Stockbridge, $2,575,070; Woodville, $2,934,500; Hilbert, $3,027,260, and Stockbridge, $1,660,740.

Football Champs To Receive Honor

FREMONT — The current conference football champions of Union High School, Weyauwega, will be guests at an appreciation banquet sponsored by the Fremont Chamber of Commerce. Coach Kieth French, with James Olte, Edward Hildebrand and Fred Agertter, assistant coaches, have chosen Nov. 14 for the event.

William Howard, Green Bay sports announcer, will be guest speaker with the Rev. Raymond Barz of the Hope United Church of Christ, Fremont.

The 7:30 p.m. dinner at the Grand View Supper Club, Fremont, will be preceded by a "popcorn" social hour for the 51 members of the football team and for the Chamber of Commerce.

Official Says County Needs Photostat Machine in 1964

WAUPACA — The county will need a new photostat machine in 1964, Lester E. Breier, register of deeds, told the county board Friday.

Breier said $1,400 was put into the 1963 budget to repair the machine this year. The office handled 7380 personal property instruments, such as chattel mortgages and so forth. There were 153 chattel abstracts prepared and numerous chattel searches or checks given verbally over the telephone.

There were 4,067 entries made in the real estate fee book of which 72 were filed, including eight plats and two survey maps, recorded.

General maintenance and betterment of county trunk highways expenditures totaled $127,652. With $196,762 available, this left a $69,110 balance available.

The major betterment project was a stretch of County Trunk K near the north county line. Surfacing and road bed work cost $41,123 with the blacktop mat costing $13,405 to bring the project's total cost for the year to $54,528.

Grading Done

Grading and surfacing of County Trunk C between U.S. 151 and County Trunk F cost $25,275 thus far. Similar work on County Trunk W cost $5,871.

Sealcoating of County Trunk H cost $12,799 and county general maintenance totaled $29,176.

Money for the maintenance and betterment work included a $80,000 county appropriation, $102,492 in supplemental aid from the state, $19,228 in refunds from federal aid to secondary work, and a $5,048 balance.

Work performed on state highways, in High Cliff Forest Park and for a wayside project along U.S. 10 totaled $72,702.

General maintenance of the highways amounted to $40,300. Pavement repair and mudjacking expenses were $14,323. Road construction work in the state park amounted to $10,215. The new wayside work cost $5,670 and wayside maintenance, $2,193.

The state is billed directly for all the aforementioned services. The direct billing also holds true for winter maintenance work on state highways. This totaled $41,964 and included $32,299 for plowing, $5,826 for chloride application, $2,330 for sanding, $1,171 for drift prevention, and $836 for hand shoveling snow.

Labor Included

Incidental labor costs totaled $22,360. The account had $28,838 available leaving a $6,477 balance. Winter maintenance of county trunk highways cost $26,169 thus far in the year. With $35,667 available, the account has a $9,498 balance.

Expenditures included $23,596 for snow removal, $1,846 for ice control, and $725 for drift prevention. Administration ran short of funds. The costs totaled $13,771 with only $13,461. A transfer was made to offset the $289 deficit.

In addition to work on state highways and county trunks, the department performed services for the municipalities totaling $41,373. It has been paid $38,243 with $3,396 still due.

Waupaca Mortgage Loans

Veterans Get $27,266 More Than Last Year

WAUPACA — Veterans in Waupaca County received $27,266 more in second mortgage loans in 1962 than they did in 1961, Frank Smith, county veterans service officer, has told the county board.

Smith said $96,266 was made available for loans during 1962. The present balance is only $37, but additional funds are expected shortly.

Recent legislation provides increases of rates of service disability compensation, reflecting the cost of living increases, he said. The minimum increase is $1 for the veterans disabled 10 percent, the maximum is $25 for the veterans disabled 100 percent. The latter now receives $250 per month.

Loans Approved

Twenty-four of 30 loan applications were approved last year. The main reasons for denying loans were excessive indebtedness and insufficient income to handle housing payments.

Smith said his office rendered assistance to many of the men in the 32nd Division. Many National Guardsmen asked about

Wrecking Operations Started on Old Forest Junction Train Depot

Village Landmark Served 2 Railroads When Calumet County Was Forest Country in 1873

BY ROBERT HAESE

Waupaca County Police Investigate Two-Car Accident

NEW LONDON — More than $500 damage was caused in a two-car crash four miles west of New London on County Trunk X at 4:30 p.m. Sunday, according to Waupaca county traffic police. The accident involved cars driven by Donald P. Hansen, 21, 646 Hillcrest Drive, Waupaca, and Barry Hammerberg, 19, 1115 W. Main St., New London.

Sgt. Lorin Fasher, county traffic officer said, Hansen was traveling east and lost control of the car at the intersection of X and Weyauwega road which is on a curve, the car skidded across the road and struck the car driven by Hammerberg who had seen the skidding car and stopped his car in an attempt to avoid the accident.

Joan Bucholz, Weyauwega, a passenger in the Hansen car suffered a possible sprained ankle.

The sawmill and a nearby wooden platform served as the first stopping place for trams. A depot was erected at the railroad crossing when the Milwaukee and Northern built its line through the south in June, 1873. This building, old residents say, was destroyed by fire.

The 1897 depot came in the heyday of railroading. Ell-shaped, its two 20-foot wings ran parallel to each railroad with freight warehouses facing each track and an office and passenger waiting room in the angle. Hotels surrounded the crossing on three sides for the accommodation of the travelers who would stop overnight or make connections from one line to the other.

A Milwaukee, Lake Shore and Western timetable of April 1, 1898 lists three west bound trains and three east bound trains stopping daily at Forest Junction as well as at 56 other places in an 18-hour run between Chicago and Watersmeet, Mich. A Milwaukee Turn to Page 12 Col. 1

Firemen were again called at 9:30 a.m., Saturday, to the Vernon Engle home, 313 State St., when an oil furnace flooded.

Stockbridge Utility Battle Continues

Farmer's Attack on Proposed Water, Sewage Facilities Draws Angry Letters From State Officials

STOCKBRIDGE — A one-man campaign against municipal water and sewage for Stockbridge and his published demands for a retraction from State Board of Health officials has instead resulted in another letter from the state board urging electors to approve bonding for the utilities in a referendum vote Tuesday.

Jesse Poppy, a farmer living within the village boundaries, paid for a front page advertisement in the past week's Calumet County Weekly Shopper warning residents of the proposed sanitary district of high assessments.

Poppy, an outspoken opponent of the municipal utilities, also demanded a public retraction from Oscar Egger, Fond du Lac district sanitary engineer for the state board of health, and from Donald Carter, sanitarian for the state board of health, for a letter they co-authored urging a "yes" vote at the forthcoming referendum.

Instead of a retraction, Carter and Egger directed a letter to Poppy with mailing to all village residents in which they reaffirmed their stand, pointed out that a "yes vote" for progress was needed and stated that "one does not retract the truth no matter how uncomfortable it may be to an individual or group."

$90,000 in Revenue

In the referendum, the village's electors will be voting on the financing, $90,000 in revenue bonding for each utility, water and sewage disposal.

Poppy, in the advertisement, claimed that the State Board of Health cannot force a municipality to bond itself at more than the 5 per cent statutory limit, in an apparent reference to the first Egger-Carter letter which carried a toned-down threat that the board has the power to order construction of such sewage facilities.

In the letter received by all village residents Saturday, Egger and Carter explained Poppy's statement is misleading since the 5 per cent limit pertains only to general obligation bonding, not revenue bonding as is proposed for the utilities.

They explain that general obligation bonding becomes the direct obligation of every taxpayer living in the municipality. The revenue bonding becomes the obligation of only those using the utility. "Only those people pay, who are receiving benefits," the letter states.

Statutes Listed

Egger and Carter then list the states that apply to the existing conditions at Stockbridge. One is that sewage wastes are being discharged into highway ditches and surface waters in violation of statutes.

The second is the nuisance statute that defines any source of filth or cause of sickness as a nuisance. The third, listed in the first letter, explains the power of the State Board of Health to order the construction of a sewage treatment plant by a municipality if the board rules that the absence of such a plant is a nuisance or a menace to health.

In reference to the latter, the letter points out that if the board orders the utility, no provision is made for non-users as is the case with the present plan. "Thus, farmers living within the incorporated limits of the village would be required to pay even if they received no benefits. Neither does it make any allowances for federal grants in these cases even though there is a federal grant being held open for Stockbridge," the letter states.

Oral Polio Vaccine Program for Waupaca Seen as Possibility

Medical Society to Decide if Immunization Will be Conducted

WAUPACA — The possibility of a county-wide oral polio vaccine program was suggested Friday by Miss Martha Heigl, county nurse, during her annual report to the county board.

Miss Heigl said the Waupaca County Medical Society will decide if the program is to be carried out in the county. She suggested the program may not quite be self-supporting and asked the board to allocate a small fund for the immunization program.

Miss Heigl attended seven health committee meetings, 52 other group meetings, 120 conferences with physicians and dentists and 148 other conferences. She made three home visits to polio cases and four because of typhoid contacts.

She said 11 tuberculosis cases were admitted to sanatoria and six cases were discharged. There are 55 cases carried in the inactive file. Seven contacts were checked. The skin testing program brought to light 33 positive reactors and 91 referrals from the mobile bus.

Service Conducted

She worked on eight maternity cases and conducted a letter service with 67 others. She also had 11 infant cases and 24 pre-school cases.

There were 150 referred by teachers, 246 conferences with teachers, 60 home visits on referrals, 50 demonstrations for volunteers, three teacher institutes and two readiness for school programs.

She made 51 home visits to handicapped children and in the adult department visited 12 amputees, 43 persons with fractured hips, 34 with strokes, seven diabetic cases and 84 others.

In public relations, she gave 24 talks and showed movies, had eight newspaper and radio releases. She commended the media for its cooperation with the health programs.

Miss Heigl maintained there is more work needed in the chronically ill department. She said physical therapists are available to give direct evaluation service. A physical therapist spent 11 days in the county visiting people in nursing homes who have been referred by physicians.

A stipend was given by the State Board of Health allowing Miss Heigl to spend three weeks at the Kenny Institute in Minneapolis. The course was on rehabilitation nursing.

Webster School Sold for $1,800

Forest Junction To Share Money With 2 Districts

FOREST JUNCTION — Norbert Grieshaber, Appleton, entering a bid of $1,800 at a public auction of the property here Saturday afternoon, was purchaser of Webster school and one acre of schoolground offered by Kaukauna, Hilbert and Brillion high school districts.

Contents of the building disposed of were innumerable individual items to individual buyers in an afternoon sale. The three annexing districts will share proceeds. Kaukauna will receive two thirds, with one third to each of the other two districts, in approximate ratio to the respective areas annexed.

Districts Joined

There was considerable discussion on the annexation issue. The district, all in Town of Woodville, was formed in 1908 by the consolidation of two districts maintaining separate schools. One of these schools was located within a mile of the present site on Highway 10. The other was located on the present Ira Loefer farm.

Both schools were still operated in the fall of 1908 pending completion of the new schoolhouse, later named Webster, which was not ready to be occupied until after the Christmas recess.

It was the last one-room school operating in the Forest Junction area. The district did not join in the consolidation of four neighboring Town Brillion districts which erected the new elementary school in Forest Junction in 1957. Last teacher of Webster school was Mrs. Jay Woodcock, the former Myrtle Wiegert of rural Greenleaf.

Byrnes Hits Administration For Use of Pressure Tactics

'Can't Interrupt System for Crisis,' He Says at Lawrence Meeting

Representative John W. Byrnes attacked the Kennedy Administration Friday night in a political address at the Lawrence College Chapel. He was introduced by Harold Froelich, nominee for assemblyman, and spoke before a crowd of about 250.

Byrnes cited the unusual nature of the 1962 campaign period. He said it was unfortunate congress adjourned so late and that Republican candidates were forced to stay in Washington while the President was out campaigning for his party. The tactic, he said, "was a typical Democratic flaccid." He mentioned also the timing of the President's moves in the Cuban situation as definitely injurious to Republican campaigns.

"There is no more important period in countries of representative government," said Byrnes, "than the campaign period."

Depot Being Torn Down at Forest Junction

and Northern timetable of June 8, 1960 lists Forest Junction as one of 27 stops along four north bound and three south bound trains between Chicago and Champion, Mich.

Bare Room

Painted in black on an otherwise bare freight room wall can still be seen the name of J. E. Long, first station agent in the new building in 1887. Some freight and express receipts preserved in local business places give some clue to the names of his predecessors as well as successors.

Names of some of Long's successors still have a familiar ring, like Timlin, Fiker, Stark, Behl, Gardner, Hass, Belter, Sullivan, Hawker, Anderle, Allen, Hartman, Luckow, Huebner, Dahl, Ripple, Kell, Davis, Schumacher, Devereaux, La Veaux, Hetherington, Vieux, Runte, Scholtz, Thomas, Broneel, Willman and others through to the present agent, A. G. Boye.

Though near Forest Junction's most disastrous fire of Oct. 30, 1906, the building was saved from destruction by firefighters.

Railroad wrecks at the crossing were as common in those years as automobile accidents are at highway junctions today. Early Saturday evening, Feb. 24, 1900, as the usual crowd of passengers and others stood at the stove in the waiting room waiting for a late train from the east in a snowstorm, the double-header train rudely broke the tranquility by crashing into an unloading freight train and shoving the cars fearfully against the depot.

$1,200 Damage

Damage was estimated at $1,200. Youngsters at the scene thoroughly enjoyed the occasion since wooden panels of bulk candy broke open and spilled in the wreckage. Occupants of the building fled through an exit on the opposite side and no one was injured.

Like 75 years ago, railroad business here today is headquartered in an improvised office in a box car as it was previous to the building of the 1887 depot. The once prolific passenger business declined through the changing years to a point where it was discontinued eight years ago. Freight handled here today doubtless in excess of any maximum afforded by the Harris sawmill in its day.

Another depot will replace the boxcar accommodations of 1902. The abandoned 20 by 32 foot depot at Greenleaf will be brought here as soon as the place at the crossing is cleared, once again.

Clintonville's Official Hostess Welcomes 7 New Families

CLINTONVILLE — Seven families were welcomed to Clintonville during October by Mrs. Charles Mack, city hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Murphy, 71 West St., moved from Oshkosh. They have a 3 month old son, Tommy. Murphy is an English teacher at the junior high school. He was here for one month last year, and then was called with the 32nd Division.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kriesel, newlyweds, live at 29 E. 12 St. They are from Elderon and Tigerton. He is a salesman, and she is employed at the Hansen Glove Corp.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wallace are living at 110 Ninth St., and are from Minneapolis. Mrs. Wallace is from Tigerton. They have no family. He is a driver for a truck line out of New London, and are members of the Bethany Free Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Essex and their 1-year-old, son Gregory, moved to Clintonville from Waukegan. Their address is 96 Brix St. He is with the FWD Corp., working in the credit department. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mc-justice department supported each instance by refusing to enforce certain laws. "If government picks and chooses laws to observe and ignore what happens to the legal structure of our country?" Byrnes asked.

Byrnes said the main pressure from Kennedy comes in the form of requests for legislation. He said Kennedy stacked the Rules Committee to get introduced the bills he so desired. "Every bill introduced has contained elements requesting more presidential power," said Byrnes.

System Doomed

"When Congress becomes subservient to the president our system of government is doomed because Congress will not then be representative of the people," said Byrnes. "We will have a Congress of 'yes-men.'"

Byrnes spoke of the need in our country for men to stand up to such practices. "Our genius lies in the forces of freedom that we have to put to work," said Byrnes. Republicans, he said, can stand up to pressure from the White House.

Byrnes said Republicans stand for individual liberty, limited government so the individual can develop according to his own dictates, diffusion of power, separation of power by the system of checks and balances, and for work, not promise.

Byrnes called for an overhaul of the tax system to create more jobs and release private forces to strengthen our economy. He asked that interference in collective bargaining be eliminated. Byrnes asserted that we should stabilize our dollar by improving our balance of payments. He said the country should increase its exports by making them more competitive in world markets.

Byrnes said we should maintain the strength of our Federal Reserve banking system.

Byrnes said, in closing, that it was possible for government to be pro-business and pro-labor simultaneously, and that our economy would be stronger if such were the case.

Republicans, he said, are the men to bring about such measures.
